

Open Letters.

The STATE COLLEGIAN invites letters, but the publication of a communication does not necessarily imply the endorsement of the sentiments contained therein. As a guarantee of good faith, the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Editor of Collegian:—

The writer believes that the attention of the students should be called to the habit, in our chapel services, of having all the dogs which can be persuaded to enter, take part in the exercises including the singing. It may be thought that it is comfortable and pleasant for the dogs, but we have little doubt that they would prefer a large number of allowed absences the same as the students do.

We believe that the practice is a bad one for students and dogs alike, and believe that if the men who are responsible would consider how it looks to visitors, especially at the Sunday services, the dogs would be kept outside where they belong.

Observer.

Junior Orators.

The following juniors have been selected as orators to take part in the annual contest next commencement: Harvey Milton Braucher, William Francis Wentzel, Alexander McIlhatten Myers, C. R. Blanchard, David B. Landis, David Franklin Evans. Alternates: Clarence Sauder Snavelly, Joseph Donald Woodward, Mark Boyer Gerhard.

CAMPUS TALK.

A sharp pencil is sure to make its mark in the world.

Revolvers and mince pies should always be handled with care. You never know how the things are loaded.

At Ohio State University about 1,200 conditions and failures were given at the end of the fall term and 100 students were requested not to return.
