

The Pennsylvania State College

The several courses and branches of instruction are grouped in the following schools: ❖ ❖

1. School of Language and Literature:

General Science course,
Classical course,
A course in Modern Language and Literature,
Latin Scientific course,

2. School of History, Political Science, and Philosophy:

The several subjects included in this School are incorporated more or less extensively into all the four years' courses. A separate course in Philosophy is offered, and other courses may be had. (See catalog.)

3. School of Agriculture:

Course in Agriculture (four years),
Course in Agriculture (two years),
Course in Forestry,
Special Creamery course (eight weeks),
Correspondence courses (Home Reading and Study).

For information

4. School of Natural Science:

Course in Biology,
Course in Chemistry,
Course in Industrial Chemistry.

5. School of Mathematics and Physics:

Course in Mathematics,
Course in Physics.

6. School of Engineering:

Course in Civil Engineering,
Course in Electrical Engineering,
Course in Mechanical Engineering,
Elementary course in Mechanics (two years).

7. School of Mines and Metallurgy:

Course in Mines and Mining (four years),
Short course in Mining (two years),
Special Students in Mining (no time limit).

Address, The Registrar, State College, Pa.