

Villanova Defeated.

In the most brilliant fielding game witnessed on Beaver Field in many years the Varsity nine decisively downed the strong Villanova team last Thursday afternoon. Peloquin, the visitors' star pitcher, was pitted against Bob Vorhis, and the latter's work shone resplendent from start to finish, Villanova being fortunate to score at all. The work done by State's infield was wonderful, the stops and throws by Mason, Cree, Crutchley, and Hushman again and again drawing forth well deserved applause.

The battle opened like a pitcher's contest, both sides going out in order for two innings, but in the latter half of the third round Ferguson opened proceedings with a fast single down the left line and Bob Vorhis followed with a double to left center. Both runners scored on Cree's bingle over second, and "Birdie" stole second, to score a moment later on Mason's bunt down the first line, which blossomed into a hit.

These three runs practically won for State because of Villanova's failure to locate the effective shoots and benders served up by Bob Vorhis. Good batting enabled the team to score seven more runs during the remaining innings. The entire game was played through in errorless fashion by State's nine. To the good work of the infielders were added sensational sliding stunts by Coulson, McCleary, and Larry Vorhis. It was a beautiful game throughout. The second game scheduled for Friday afternoon had to be called off on account of rain. The score:—

Good Work.

E. M. Thomas, '08, has recently made a determination of the mechanical equivalent of heat, with some new apparatus in the Physical Laboratory. The mean of three experiments, 4.16×10^7 to 7th power, differs only about one third of one per cent. from what is considered the best determination of this physical constant.
