

The West Virginia Game.

Monday arfternoon on Beaver field the West Virginia nine under Captain Earl Mason met defeat at the hands of the Penn State nine under Captain "Joe" Mason. The game was well played throughout, but our men had the advantage in batting, while Mitinger held the visitors to three hits. This makes the fifteenth straight victory for State.

Mr. Downton Speaks to Electricals.

Mr. Downton of the Westinghouse Electric company gave a talk before the Electrical Engineering Society last Saturday morning. His remarks were principally on the apprentice courses which college graduates pursue while in the company's employ. He illustrated his talk by pictures of the shops, the men, and their work. Mr. Downton has charge of these apprentice courses and has developed them into the important feature of the company's work which they now are. After the talk, a short reception was held, in which many men had the pleasure of meeting him. A number of this year's class of Electricals have accepted positions with the Westinghouse Electric Company.

Reserves 9—Bellefonte 2.

Last Friday afternoon our Reserves played the Bellefonte nine at Meadowbrook park for the benefit of the Bellefonte hospital, in the presence of a large crowd. Several town players, were added to the Bellefonte academy's line up but the fine game put up by the Reserves made victory certain from the start. Skemp pitched a brilliant game, allowing but two hits and striking out 10 batters. Bellefonte would have been snut out, but for an error in the third inning. The game was well played and interesting all hrough.

A New System.

As a result of four years' experience some changes have been made in the constitution of the Inter-collegiate Debating League of Pennsylvania. Instead of the old graduate council which made the arrangements for the debates and chose

Tailoring tells when it comes to "light weights"

Ever see a ready made suit that looked all spic span and perfect in the store the day you tried it on, and after a week of service it began to bag and sag and look disappointed with life. It's cheap construction that's responsible. A pressing iron can cover a multitude of tailoring weaknesses, but wear will bring it out.

You will find a Garson-Meyer made suit of a different calibre. You will find it built to look the same at the height of its service as at the time of your purchase. You will find the coat shape-retaining, because it's built staunch, true and thorough, in, out and throughout.

You can't help being impressed with the distinctive fashion and expressive air of these thoroughly Metropolitan Clothes,
