

ALUMNI NOTES.

The friends of Homer H. Allen, '97, were agreeably surprised last week to receive announcement cards of his marriage at Garrett, Ind., on Saturday, Sept. 28, to Miss Mary E. Frederick, of that city. Mr. Allen is traveling for the Susquehanna Coal Company, with headquarters in Erie.

Leroy Scholl, '01, accompanied by his wife and mother, spent a day at the college last week. He was a former State football captain, coach, and hammer thrower.

F. E. Winter, '07, was recently married to Miss M. E. Baker, of Bradford, Pa. He is in the contracting and building business with his father in Bradford.

S. H. Yorks, '07, a former manager of the Collegian, writes from Berwick, Pa., where he has a position with the American Car and Foundry company.

R. P. Graham, '07, writes from Altoona where he has a position in the civil department of the Pennsylvania railroad.

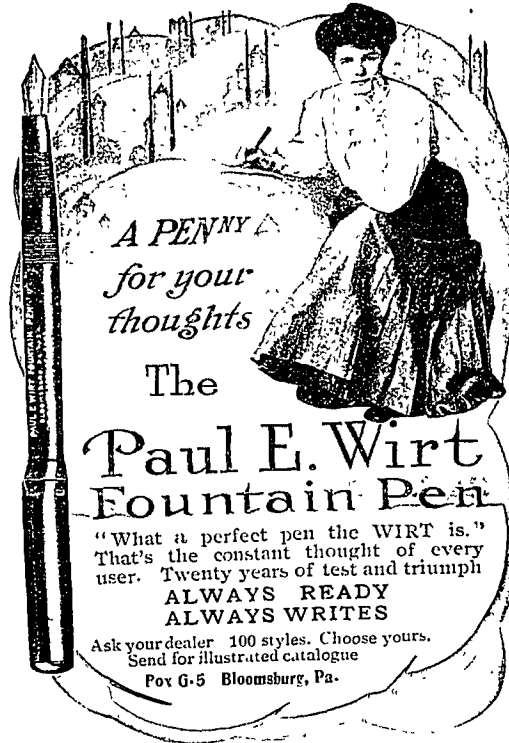

Clarence R. Potteiger, '07, has accepted a position as chemist with the State Agricultural Department.

Edward W. Bush, '92, writes from Hartford, Conn., where he is engaged in civil engineering work.

W. J. Hulings, ex-'07, is now a student in the Colorado School of Mines at Golden, Colorado.

The University of Syracuse has let the contract for a new gymnasium which will cost $300,000. The building is to be a three story structure, with the main floor 210 feet long by 100 feet wide. The building will be the largest gymnasium in the world, exceeding that of Princeton, which has heretofore been the largest.

E. K. Mentzer, ex-'09, at present working for the Penna. Steel Co. at Steelton, was in town this week.

About Tailors and Craftsmen

Plod, plod, plod--that's the tailor.
Think, design, create--that's the craftsman. Which would you prefer to make your Fall Suit? Would you rather have hand work or head
work?

Sim's Clothes

show the result of initiative. Fabrics are but plastic raw materials that may either be botched or beautified
in the handling. We can show you the art of clothes building reduced to a science in our Fall Models. All the approved mixtures moulded in accord with Fashion's dictum.
Prices leave off where others begin.
