

Open Letters.

The STATE COLLEGIAN invites letters, but the publication of a communication does not necessarily imply the endorsement of the sentiments contained therein. As a guarantee of good faith, the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Editor of the Collegian:—

Most of us who use the Library to a moderate degree find from time to time that the despicable practice of cutting sections and clippings from the papers and magazines is still much in evidence.

Last year we had the same trouble, and I suppose we will have it more or less all the time; it seems to me, however, that if the clipper would stop a moment and remember that by this selfish act he may be depriving any number of people of desired information or possible pleasure, he will cease this needless, harmful practice.

If the clipping still continues something definite should be done and the perpetrator proclaimed what he is. I think that I have the sympathy of most of the users of the library in an effort to suppress the clipper.

Fickle Fashion and its Followers

The Hottentot wears a ring in his nose—that's fashion. Some of the Hottentots in the clothing business would try to make their followers look almost as foolish. But we say, "if fashion means anything, it must mean good taste."

Sim's Clothes are the farthest removed from freakish effects—simply a rare refinement expressed in fabrics and fine tailoring. Neither are they dull. We'll make it plain to you when you call to select your Fall Suit or Overcoat. Prices don't need explaining.
