

undertaken in the right spirit in the near future, we might have it ready for occupancy before the meeting of another Legislature, which will have so much to do that we can scarcely expect under any circumstances to get an appropriation in this direction.

If I were to continue, however, to particularize as to our needs, I fear I would take more space than the scissoring editor of the Collegian will allow. I quite agree with a gentleman, prominent in official life, who, driving over the campus with me the other day, said, "You need twenty millions of dollars here". I answered "Yes, and we'll get it in time." So we will. Those of you who are able and willing will do your share of it, as others of your number have already done, but we need some of it now.

A large edition of the report of the landscape architect, giving the details of the arrangement of the campus and the grouping of new buildings, has been provided for and, if you are interested in the subject, I hope you will write for a copy. Although one will probably be sent to you as long as the edition may last, if you would enclose a dollar with your request, we would be able to secure a second edition which would certainly supply all prospective demands.

I anticipate stirring times at the next Commencement. If you cannot come before that time, do not fail to arrange your affairs to make a visit to dear old "State" Commencement week, June 14-17, 1908.

In the meantime, with gratitude for the past and enthusiasm for the future, let us, as in recent years,

"For the glory of old State,
For her founders strong and great,
For the future that we wait,
Raise the song!
Raise the song!"

With love and esteem, Very cordially yours,

James A. Beaver.
