Hours and Subjects of Instruction in the School of Mines and Metallurgy showing relative advance.

	1900 1	1901 2	1902 3	1903 4	1904 5	1905 6	1906 7 Under graduate	Graduate
Assaying	4	7	4	4	8	8	56	40
Geology	.7	5	8	6	6	44	172	36
Metallurgy	10	14	30	46	44	56	143	44
Mineralogy	5	16	24	24	52	120	256	22
Mining	17	16	47	59	45	57	312	38
Mining Geology	2	3	9	6	6	6	255	128
Mining Law			3	3	3	3	14	11
Ore Dress'g,CoalWsh'g	4	4	7	7	3	3	66	32
Paleontology			4			36	144	80
Petrography			30	20	24	24	118	40
Catalog No. of Students		21	45	67	81	98	132
Complete Regist'rtn of students	26	52	73	88	114	· 143

The total enrollment this year to date is 159, of which number 50 are Freshmen including the Short Course (2 years) men and the special students who have entered this year.

The following figures show the relative increase in the number of students taking certain subjects since 1901-2.

Subject	1st Semester 1901-1902	1st Semester 1907 1908
Assaying	7	37
Geology	13	133
Metallurgy	7	112
Mineralogy	27	162
Mining	5	240

During the past six years the School has risen from the nineteenth in size in the United States to a place among the first six or seven, as well as the first in the state. Its position among the prominent Mining Schools of the country has now been won, and its future will depend upon its coming administration and the support given to it by the Board of Trustees and the State of Pennsylvania.

M. E. Wadsworth, Dean.

Pennsylvania Day.

Before a large audience of students and visitors to the College, the annual observance of Pennsylvania Day and Dedicatory Services for the new Agricultural Buildings were begun with exercises in the Auditorium on last Friday. These exercises were scheduled to begin at ten o'clock but owing to the lateness of the Lemont train, they did not begin until more than a half hour later. The students passed the interval by singing the Alma Mater song and "Come, Brothers, Let Us Raise the Song."

Several distinguished visitors were present, among them being His Excellency, Governor Edwin S. Stuart, his staff, United States Senator Boies A. Penrose, State Senator Grimm, and Dr. Nathan C. Schaffer. When Governor Stuart was introduced by Col. Woodward, who by reason of his office as Chairman of the Committee on arrangements for the dedication of the Agricultural buildings, presided over the meeting, the student body greeted him with the college yell, given with as much vim as it was ever given on the athletic field.

The following program was carried out:

Music, processional, College Orchestra; invocation, Dr. Benjamin Gill; address, Edwin S. Stuart, Governor of Pennsylvania; address, James A. Beaver, President of the Board of Trustees; address, Thomas F. Hunt, Dean of the School of Agriculture and Director of the Experiment Station; address, Nathan C. Schaeffer, Superintendent of Public Instruction and Chairman of Allied Agricultural Organizations; Music, "Home That