EDITORIAL.

Our college has now reached a stage in its development when an active alumni interest is essential to its future welfare. In response to this need a deeper concern is being manifested by graduates in the affairs of their Alma Mater, as indicated by an increasing number of gifts, greater activity of the various alumni associations, and the larger interest of the individuals in the growth of the college. Plans are under way for a reorganization of the Alumni Association to enable it to keep in closer touch with its members and it is intended to organize clubs wherever there are enough State men to make such action possible. If you, Mr. Alumnus, are not already affiliated with any of the present groups, join the one nearest to you or write H. A.

Leitzell, secretary, State College, Pa., about organizing a new club in your vicinity. Strong organizations are maintained in Harrisburg, Pittsburgh, Boston and New York City, and it is hoped to greatly increase the number within this college year.

Our undergraduates, too, are interested in your progress. Every issue of the Collegian devotes some space to alumni news and, beginning with this issue, a special alumni number will be issued quarterly. These special numbers are designed to keep you in closer touch with affairs at the college and with your friends and classmates. In return we ask you to keep us posted as to your location and progress. As the organ of the student body we extend a greeting and best wishes for your success.

Notice.

The regular subscription price of the Collegian is $1.50 per year. For those who wish to have the paper sent them during the remainder of the present year the price will be $1.00. Alumni can surely find no easier and better way of keeping in touch with each other than by subscribing for the paper. During the remainder of the year three other alumni numbers will be published, each of which we hope to make better than the preceding one.

Enclose one dollar, tell us where you are and what you are doing, and you will be doing a favor both to us and to yourself. We believe that at the end of the year you will feel more than repaid.

The W. U. P. Game.

Before the paper reaches the out of town subscribers the Thanksgiving game with W. U. P. will have been played. As was the case last year the game will doubtless be a hard fought contest, yet we believe that there can be but one result. Although Captain Burns and his men have suffered serious injuries during the season to such an extent that the team has been materially weakened, the spirit is still there, the spirit that will receive defeat only when defeat is inevitable.

The Pittsburg Concert.

The attention of State men living in or near Pittsburg is called to the fact that on Friday evening, Nov. 29, the combined musical clubs of the college will give an entertainment in the Pittsburg Conservatory or Music on Dithridge street. The clubs have been preparing for this concert for several weeks and we believe that those who attend will be very well satisfied with the program that will be rendered.

A NEW PRESIDENT

strong personality, his resolute purpose, and his strict impartiality can not fail to win the enthusiastic support and admiration of the students and we can congratulate ourselves on being able to welcome Dr. Sparks as the president of the Pennsylvania State College.

Dr. Sparks is in Pittsburg this week where he will be present at the W. U. P. game tomorrow. He will assume active duties at the College next June.

The Women's Literary Club will meet at the home of Mrs. H. D. Meek Tuesday evening, December 2.
