

Open Letters.

The STATE COLLEGIAN invites letters, but the publication of a communication does not necessarily imply the endorsement of the sentiments contained therein. As a guarantee of good faith, the writer's name must be signed, but will not be printed if so desired.

Editor of the Collegian:—

The severe snow storm which passed over State College recently has served to draw attention once more to the inefficient system of keeping the paths clean. In the first place, the paths do not seem to be attended to often enough for the proper clearing of snow during such a storm as occurred Senior Week. For two days, the path between McAllister and Main Building was not cleared so far as the winter was able to observe. In the second place, what attention is paid to the clearing of the walks is of the crudest possible style. As a result, we are compelled to travel between buildings in single file, and are able to pass others only with difficulty.

We must admit that the recent storm was of unusual severity and that due allowance must be made for that, but by proper use of the facilities at hand could we not have walks in better condition and not be made the laughing stock of visitors and of visiting athletic teams.

MUSIC IN THE AIR.

At a recent meeting of the sophomore class it was voted to require of the freshmen a knowledge of the Alma Mater song, and also "Come Brothers Raise the Song." The sophomores have signified their intention of calling for some solos soon, and it is evidently up to the freshmen to see that they learn them at once.

It is impossible to judge the International Clothes by the price. There is nothing about them that is similar to others—so comparison is out of place. They stand alone. Though popular priced they are far in advance of those that cost you double. The difference lies in the fact that the International Tailoring Co., of New York and Chicago have different methods and are able to render service of the highest order at a price that none can imitate.
