

Wrestling Meet.

On Friday evening the Wrestling club will hold a meet in the Armory, for the championship of the Club. Medals will be awarded to the winners of each bout. As it was found impossible to arrange a meet with any other college this year, the club decided to hold this meet in order show how the intercollegiate rules compare with the old rules used in the interclass meet. An attempt may be made later to adopt these rules for the interclass contests. An admission fee of 15 cents will be charged in order to pay the expenses of the club for this year and to put it on a sound financial basis for next year, when it is expected that several meets will be arranged.

College Improvement.

The Y. M. C. A Meeting on next Sunday evening will be on the subject "How can I better the college spirit and customs of Penn. State?" All the fellows are invited to attend and take part in the discussion, whether or not they are members of the Association. The only restriction is that there be no "destructive criticism or knocking," everybody being expected to at least advance some remedy for the defects he may see or think he sees in undergraduate activities. Please note that only undergraduate faults are to be considered. April 5th, 6.15 p m. in Room 529 Main.

Collegian Trials.

Members of the freshman class who wish to try for positions on the Collegian board should place their applications containing names and college addresses in the box in Room 130 Main within the next few days. Each applicant will be assigned a subject on which to write, the trials continuing for such time as is necessary to give an idea of each applicant's ability. These positions are open to all 1911 men, and are filled solely on merit. If further in-
