

formance were with few exceptions new and good. The feature of part two was the realistic scene in the "Pride of Centre County Barber Shop." The exhibition in contortion in this act by Meade, '11, was as good as that generally given by a professional. In the third part of the program Prof. Krise with his German class made a great hit. The chicken feed in the woods, with conspirators lounging around the campfire, singing and watching the kettle boil, made an ideal closing scene. The original faculty marching song were thoroughly appreciated by the well pleased audience.

Much credit is due Mr. C. M. Couch for the training which he gave to the company, and for the way in which he directed the entire performance from the orchestra.

Interclass Debate.

The interclass debate between the Sophomores and Freshmen came off last night too late to find a place in this issue. The question was: Resolved, that immigration to the United States should be further restricted by an educational test. The affirmative was defended by Fisher, McNary, Lams, and Faust, alternate, for the Sophomores. The Freshmen debaters were Hasser, Kershaw, Rhoades, and Meikle, alternate.

Intercollegiate.

The Cornell football schedule, published last week, shows but nine games instead of the 12 played in former years. Chicago will take the place of Princeton on the schedule, the game to be played at Chicago. Games will be played with Amherst, Oberlin, Colgate, Vermont, Chicago, Trinity, Pennsylvania, and Penn State, the last named to be played on October 31, at Ithaca.

Capt. Hay was recently appointed by the government to be captain of the rifle team of the United States Cavalry. They will have a national match with the Infantry at Camp Perry, Ohio, this summer. His team of 36 men and officers, recently selected, are to begin practice at Fort Ethan Allen, Vermont, in June, and will be joined by him after Commencement.
