The Reserves' Trip.

After the game with Juniata, assistant manager Wilcox took the nine on a two days' trip to Tyrone and Huntingdon. The first game at Tyrone on Friday was an easy victory for the local lads, who were in a batting humor and easily solved the delivery of Barr, an experienced twirler. Watson hit the ball for three bases when the sacks were full in the third inning. After the fifth Barr became more effective and but one score was made in the 1st four innings. Study broke his leg in sliding to third base, while Butz of the Reserve team sustained a painful injury to his right hand in catching a man at second.

The return game at Juniata College on Saturday was a closely contested affair as far as it went. In the sixth inning, with one out, Ryan was on second and "Letty" Bray at the bat, when it began to look like rain. The umpire, evidently afraid of getting his "Merry Widow" wet in the storm that seemed to be approaching, called the game off before a drop of rain had fallen. Then the Scrubs had ten minutes infield practice before the rain came down in torrents. Harry Leidich's home run over the left field fence was one
