

COLLEGE NOTES.

Miss Anna Redifer leaves for Europe soon to attend the International Congress of Art Teachers which meets in London during the month of August. She expects to land at Queenstown and go from Cork to the Lakes of Killarney, to Dublin, to the Isle of Man, and then cross to the English Lake District. From there she will go to Carlisle, to Glasgow, the Trossochs, to Sterling, to Edinburgh, New Castle, Durham, York, Lincoln, Peterborough, Ely, Cambridge, and London. Short trips out from London to Oxford and other points will be taken. Returning from London Miss Redife will visit the cathedral town of Canterbury, Winchester, Salisbury, Hereford and others in the west of England and in Wales. She will sail from Liverpool in September.

Professor Hugo Diemer of the Department of Mechanical Engineering has an article in the Engineering Magazine for June on "A Four Years' Course in Industrial Engineering." The Editor of the Magazine in a head note calls it "A concrete presentation of a proposal for a course preparing the student for industrial work and one which merits the attention due to pioneer efforts."

Mr. Jonn H. Leete has been made "Dean of the School of Science" of the Carnegie Schools of Pittsburg where he has for some time been Assistant Director.
