

COMMENCEMENT IS HERE

Q We have a bundle of full dress shirts, gloves etc. but as you know our goods are always of a superior quality so hurry and get "THE RIGHT THING" before this bundle dwindles to a mere pile of empty boxes. Perfect Dress ties, Silk palm gloves which are the coolest things on earth are among the newest. * * * *

Report of the Secretary of the Alumni Association.

The Alumni Association records and books have been kept in one of the alcoves of the Carnegie Library, and Helen J. Beck has been employed as assistant secretary, giving one-half her time.

Monthly statements have been sent out during the year, and have been responded to by 260 members. Four issues of the Alumni Quarterly have been published, and sent free of charge to all active members of the association. The issues of the Quarterly in which this report is given will be sent to all members of the association, whether their dues are paid or not.

A card file of the alumni has been completed on which as complete a record as possible is kept of every alumnus. It is very hard to keep an exact record due to the fact that many of the alumni change their location from year to year, and fail to notify the secretary of the change.

The total number of graduates of the Pennsylvania State College up to June 1908 number 1039. Of these 56 are deceased. Of the 983 living, 338 are active members of the Alumni Association. During the year communications have been received from 450 of the entire number. We have also been able, either directly or indirectly, to communicate with all but about 15 whom we cannot reach by letter.

The work of local organizations has progressed very materially this year and there are now nine active associations, five of which are located in the state of Pennsylvania.

The funds collected amount to $554. Expenditures, $323.76 which includes assistant secretary's salary, postage, and printing of three issues of the Alumni Quarterly.

The above figures are for receipts and expenditures up to Commencement week, and not inclusive.

H. A. Leitzell, Secretary.
