EDITORIAL.

An excellent idea, and one which many college men are carrying out, is to keep all of the college papers published during the four years, and have them bound either in one or two volumes as a record of the events of that time. Not only is the cost comparatively slight, but such a volume will in years to come be considered of inestimable value.

All of the issues of this year have been sent to each student with this thought in mind. If any papers have been missed, they may be obtained on application to the manager. A few of last year's files still remain, and will be supplied to anyone desiring to complete his files.

It may be taken as a fairly safe rule that the interest taken by the local business men in the welfare of the students may be judged by the way in which they advertise in the student publications. We would urge upon all State men the importance of patronizing our advertisers. It would be impossible without their support to publish the paper, and we ask you to show your appreciation of this support by buying what you need from the men whose advertisements are found in the columns of this paper.

We wish to commend the plan adopted by those in charge of the Y. M. C. A. entertainment course, which is described in another column. In previous years only a comparatively small number of season tickets have been sold, although the attendance at the entertainments was good. This year the price of the course has been placed so low that every man should plan to enjoy all of the entertainments, and we believe that there will be nothing but satisfaction, since the course is the most expensive and without doubt the best ever secured for the College.

The Board of Trustees has voted the sum of $200 to be added to the surplus of $144 left from the subscription fund of last year for the free lecture course. With this total sum it is proposed to secure not more than four or five lectures, the dates to be scattered through the year. It is hoped to secure desirable men when they chance to be in the vicinity of the College and therefore no permanent list of speakers will be announced in advance. The lectures and subjects will be advertised on the campus and in the village a few days in advance of the time of the lecture. It is hoped to have most of the lectures illustrated and on topics which will appeal to the entire body of students. The admission will be free according to the custom instituted last year. So far as possible, dates will be selected which will not interfere with the regular course offered by the Y. M. C. A.
