

COLLEGE NOTES.

At a recent meeting of the Washington County Club, the following officers were elected: president, Edward McCleary; vice president, Paul Lyon; secretary, J. W. Banfield; treasurer, S. J. McNarv. The club as organized this year consists of 15 members, but there is a possibility that some men have entered, and have not yet joined the club. Any student from Washington County, who is not included in the club should see some of the officers at once.

At the first meeting of the Student Council on Tuesday evening the present cut system was considered and several changes will probably be recommended to the faculty. The exclusion of students from the dormitories during summer school was discussed, and it is likely that hereafter meetings of the dormitory students will frequently be held.

The College authorities completed the purchase last Friday of the mill, mill dam, and stream at Pine Grove Mills. The water is to be used to supplement the supply from Musser's Gap.

A resolution was presented at the Wednesday morning mass meeting by a committee of the student council to prevent the defacing of the clock in the tower. It was unanimously adopted.

A new barber shop with three chairs is to be opened next Wednesday in the front of Stevens' pool room by G. F. Sasserma of Bellefonte.

The annual report of the college for 1906-07 has been forwarded to the state printer. The volumes will be ready for distribution in January.

The Philadelphia Club will give a reception to new students from Philadelphia and vicinity, Saturday evening in 529 Main.

The 200 lockers ordered for the gymnasium are being installed.

The tower of the Main building is being repaired, and the dials of the clock will be refrosted while the scaffolding is in place.

The College has been represented throughout the state this summer by two educational exhibits sent out by the School of Agriculture and Experiment station to the many county fairs. These represent the various departments of Dairy Husbandry, Agronomy and Horticulture, and attract considerable attention wherever they go. They have been in charge of Messrs. Goodling, Pillsbury, Gross, Henry, and Sloan.

Sam Llewellyn, ex-'09 was at college yesterday.

C. L. O'Donnell, '08, is working in the Joplin district at Granby, Mo.

Maurice O. Horning '07 was married to Lauretta Mae Clark of Denver, Colorado, on July 16. Mr. Horning is located with the Denver Furnace company.
