The Wrestling Match

An Easy Victory for the Sophomores.

The annual class wrestling match took place last Thursday evening on Beaver field at 8:00 p. m. The contest was held according to the plan suggested by the wrestling club and adopted by the upper classes. The rules call for five weights: 125, 135, 148, 160 and heavy weight. Each bout was limited to nine minutes, with an additional three minutes if necessary for a decision.

The time before the match was taken up by the usual exchange of class yells and songs among the students. Both teams were cheered repeatedly upon their appearance; the din ceasing only when "Pop" Golden called the two light weights, Neidig, '11, and Seltzer, '12, on the mat for the first bout. The featherweights came together quickly securing and breaking holds in rapid succession until Neidig succeeded in pinning his opponent's shoulders down

Brown '11, and Hoskins '12, came next. Both men worked hard and fast, but Brownie's experience in handling such men as "Bull" McCleary was too much for the inexperienced Hoskins, and another fall went to the Sophs.

McEntire, '11, and Duncan, '12, then wrestled nine minutes to a draw, the freshman showing great pluck and endurance in breaking some of Mac's clever holds. Meade, '11 threw Kuhns '12 after a few minutes of fast work. McEntire threw Duncan when they wrestled off the draw.

In the heavyweight bout Harlow '12, slapped Lesh to the mat in short order but the husky soph broke loose and soon won from the big freshman.

The second bouts were much like the first, the sophomores winning all of the falls. Both teams are to be commended for the clean, sportsmanlike manner in which they wrestled. The freshmen deserve much credit for the game fight they made against a team of seasoned wrestlers such as opposed them, some of the best men of the wrestling club being on the sophomore team.

The new rules appear to be a great improvement over the former ones, as they necessitate a lively bout and do away with any tiresome loafing such as has been seen here before. Moreover the bout is not as great a strain on the wrestlers as it was formerly when they struggled sometimes for over an hour. Those men who made their class team, and any others who feel that they have any ability along this line, should not fail to come out and try for a place on the college team, which will be picked later in the season. The wrestling club is hopeful of a meet with Cornell and the prospects are good for a match with U. of P.

The State College Water company, which gets its supply from Shingletown Gap, has applied to the state department for an increase of capital stock from $11,000 to $22,000. The company recently replaced about 3000 feet of 6 inch line with 12 inch line.

The Wrestling club will hold its first practice on Saturday night at 7:30. Every man is urged to come out even though he has not wrestled before.

Dedication of Woman's Building

An Interesting Program Prepared for Friday.

Invitations have been sent out to all the women's clubs in the state, and a large number of visitors are expected tomorrow, when the new Woman's building will be dedicated with fitting exercises. The program for the day will begin at ten o'clock in the morning when the visitors will inspect the agricultural buildings and equipment. At noon luncheon will be served by the students in the home economics courses, under the direction of Miss Waugh and Miss Bemis. This will be followed by an exhibit of sewing and an inspection of the new laboratories, the dormitories, and the other college buildings.

At two o'clock in the afternoon the program will begin in the auditorium, with Miss Sara C. Lovejoy, dean of the department, presiding. The address of welcome will be given by President Sparks. Following this will be an address, "The Place of Domestic Science in the Amelioration of Mankind," by Mrs. Anna C. M. Tillinghast. An address follows by Miss Mira L. Dock, on "Miss McKnight and The Pennsylvania State College." It will be remembered, that Miss McKnight, who died recently, presided at the meetings of the State Federation of Women's Clubs, held at the College two years ago.

The last address of the day will be given by Mrs. Sarah Tyson Rorer, who is famous for her writings on cooking, particularly in the Ladies' Home Journal, on "Educational Value of Domestic Science."
