college affairs that are as untrue as they are detrimental.

The details of such a plan would have to be worked out carefully, but the essential feature would doubtless be that all news sent out for publication must first have the approval of the proper officials of the club. We believe, moreover, that the result would be a more efficient and thorough spreading of news concerning the college.

Sophomores Win Cider Scrap.

The sophomores had no great difficulty in winning the annual cider scrap, which was held on Saturday on the field near the armory. Probably six hundred men lined up around the eighty-foot circle, at the center of which was the forty-gallon barrel of apple juice. With the crack of the pistol the ring closed upon the common objective, and for twenty minutes the fighting was fast and furious. When hands were counted it was found that 46 sophomores and 14 freshmen had hands on the barrel.

The year's experience in scraps had its effect on the work of the sophomores, and they had the advantage throughout. By quick work at the beginning they were able to get the better position around the barrel, and by compelling the freshmen to fight on the defensive they were able to keep this advantage.

An attempt by the sophomores to use a rope to trip the freshmen at the take off met the disapproval of the judges, and the plan was given up.

Athletic Nominations.

The following men were nominated Monday evening for assistant general athletic managers: H. Morgan, F. E. Bittenbender, W. C. Summer, C. D. Clark, J. R. Taylor, and L. W. Smith. The election will probably be held on Thursday of next week.

It was also decided that at the Bucknell game the grandstand is to be reserved for ladies and their escorts and for visitors.
