THE NAVY GAME

State Loses a Clean, Hard Fought Contest, 5-0.

Our eleven did not get revenge on Saturday for last year's heart-breaking defeat at Annapolis, but it played a wonderfully strong game. "Your men played the hardest, cleanest, football we have seen here this fall, including the tie game with Harvard," is the way captain Northcroft of the Midshipmen spoke of State's work to coach "Tommy" Fennell.

The only score was made by Richardson of the Navy about the middle of the first half after the Annapolis backfield had carried the ball from their own 25 yard line by consistent hard play. Following that our men seemed to have the better part of the argument until the first half closed, and during the second period acting-captain Vorhis' aggregation appeared to still be a little the superior team, but the necessary touchdown to clinch a victory was always just out of reach. The whistle finished the game when the white and blue possessed the pigskin on the Navy's 20 yard line.

Our team was not in the best of physical shape owing to the extremely hard schedule which is now all but finished. The result was that McClellan, Weaver, Ballou and Hirshman had to be substituted for when the game was still young. Riddle, Johnson, Harrington and Barr who took their places did well and but for "Harry's" fast work Uncle Sam's boys might have secured another touchdown. On one of Barr's punts, Lange, the lightning little quarterback, skirted around the end and had a clear field but Harrington brought him down from behind.

Our attack and defense were equally as strong as the Navy's but Barr, Piolett and Ballou were not up to their standard in punting and the Midshipmen repeatedly gained on their kicking abilities. Gray, Vorhis, Smith and the old reliable Cyphers each played an excellent game in every department. Had our men been in the fine physical trim that they were at the time of the Bucknell game, it is doubtful indeed if the Navy could have won. McCleary's work on the secondary defense was sadly missed.

The Civil Feed.

Railroads, Hydraulics and Bridge Design, We're the Civils of 1909.

Transit, Level, Ruling Pen, We're the Civils of 1910.

Fifty seniors, juniors, and faculty members enjoyed the annual banquet of the civil society at McAllister Hall on Saturday evening. After doing the usual justice to the "eat-ins" the members listened to the following program which was carried out under the direction of toastmaster H. J. Bennett: Personality in Engineering, Prof. E. D. Walker; The C. E. Society, J. G. Bechtold; Junior Civils, L. M. Fisher; The Eaglesmere Trip, Prof. H. B. Shattuck; Senior Civils, A. A. McDonald. The famous civil quartet also rendered several selections.

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

West Point, Allegheny, and University of Pittsburg Added This Year.

Manager Lindemuth has arranged a basketball schedule for captain Funston's five which compares most favorably with last year's list and with any schedule we have ever had, for that matter. Several innovations have been made. Instead of starting the season about the middle of January as was the case last winter, a game is played here with the Harrisburg A. C. in about three weeks; and an eastern trip, including the Pennsylvania game, will be taken before Christmas. It is not improbable that manager Lindemuth will also induce Penn to come up here for a contest. Games with Allegheny, West Point and the Pittsburg Collegians have been arranged for the first time, and the students will see some excellent basketball on the Armory floor, since seven games are to be played at home, and all with strong aggregations.

Here is the schedule:

AT HOME

Dec. 11—Harrisburg A. C.

FIRST EASTERN TRIP

Dec. 14—Open. (Navy, Johns Hopkins or Dickinson will be scheduled.)

Dec. 15—Pennsylvania at Philadelphia.

Dec. 16—George Washington University at Washington D. C.

AT HOME

Jan. 15—Wyoming Seminary.

Jan. 30—Bucknell.

Feb. 3—Allegheny.

Feb. 6—Franklin and Marshall.
