As neither Professor Tomhave nor H. C. McIlveen, who officiated in all of last season's home basketball games are with us this year, the manager is in a bad way for a referee. If any instructor is willing to officiate at the coming home games, his services will be most thankfully received, and manager Lindemuth, at the Beta Theta Pi House, is also anxious to hear from any undergraduate who is capable of acting in the capacity of referee.

The Final Game.

Our Thanksgiving Day football game in Pittsburg is the only one remaining. Last Saturday the Smoky City aggregation held the Indians 6 to 0, and kept the Redmen all of the first half and a good part of the second half from scoring. The Pittsburgers, who play Gettysburg next Saturday while our eleven rests, are now brimful of confidence and it is up to State to show her best on Thanksgiving Day.

Even with captain McCleary, our peerless leader, out of the game, we are going to Pittsburg to win—the biggest crowd of undergraduates that ever attended the final struggle.

Ray Smith '05, who is looking after State's interests in Pittsburg, has already disposed of a good number of the seats in the white and blue grandstand sections, but excellent places can still be procured through him. It is up to us who are going in the State cheering section to secure a good leader now, cultivate our voices well in the meantime, and show "W. U. P." what real, concentrated rooting and real State spirit are! Win or lose, our undergrads who can get to Pittsburg on Thanksgiving will root all the time, and we will go out there to win!

Saturday Evening's Entertainment.

The Schildkret Hungarian Orchestra comes here Saturday night to open the Y. M. C. A. course of entertainments in the Auditorium.

This famous orchestra is now playing its fifteenth season in this country under the management of the Brockway Lyceum Bureau of Pittsburg, and is drawing packed houses wherever it goes. The musicians were brought here during the Chicago World's fair, being especially engaged for concert work in that city, but since then have played all through the East, returning to Chicago in time to play for Prince Henry on his recent tour.

Mr. Schildkret played at the wedding of Miss Alice Roosevelt and at the Washington Park club, and is without a peer as a leader and a flute soloist. The company includes a pianist, a violinist and a flutist as soloists, and very capable performers on the clarinet, cello, bass violin, and dulcimer.

The concert will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. The regular admission prices of 35 and 50 cents will be charged to those not holding course tickets.

Death of Guy F. Merris, '07.

Word was received at the college on Wednesday last of the death of Guy F. Merris, '07, which occurred suddenly at his home in Du Bois. He was a graduate of the civil department, and had been engaged for some time in railroad and mining work. The poisonous gases in the latter work had affected his system to such an extent that recovery was impossible.

He is survived by his wife, who was formerly Miss Edith Weibly, of State College, and his parents, who reside in Du Bois.

Turrible Ruction.

The nerve-thrilling contest commonly known as the Toothpick-Tumbler game, which is the climax of the football season—with possibly one or two exceptions—will be played on Beaver Field at 2 o'clock on Saturday. Both varsity teams have been in training for several hours, and secret practice is being held every once in a while. John Philip Sousa's band is also holding secret practice in honor of the occasion. Many new and startling trick plays are being worked out by the coaches, and it is unfortunate that the game did not come earlier in the season, since coach Fennell might then have secured some valuable ideas for use in the varsity work. The regular "T" will be granted as usual to those who play a full half in this game.

Everybody out for the funniest event of the season.

The time—2.00 o'clock on Saturday; the place, Beaver Field; and the—game, Toothpicks vs. Tumblers.
