(5) Originally reports on any subject you need at $1.50 per thousand words (regular price $2.00.) These are first-hand studies by university graduates, trained in investigating and in the subjects treated.

(6) Use of our service during the year to obtain a temporary or permanent position for yourself, to secure orders or clients for your work, or to furnish paid information about your locality or other familiar subjects.

(7) A commission of 25% on all orders you obtain from others for our service. This affords a good income, limited only by the time and thought you devote to interesting people in our investigations, expert advice, efficiency ratings, applied information and other special services.

(8) One year's subscription to our forthcoming magazine "Efficiency: The Journal of Applied Information," to contain studies of public questions and current affairs, reviews of books and shorter articles, bibliographies, outlines, briefs, and courses in sociology, economics and political science.

The total cost of all these advantages, if accepted by you at this time, is five dollars. You may not desire or be in a position to avail yourself of all of them, but they can be used as occasion requires during the year. If the original report is not itself worth the whole five dollars, in the opinion of any qualified judge, we will return your money. Thus we guarantee satisfaction, even if you use nothing more than this fraction of what we offer. But you will constantly find new uses for our service.
