The latest of the series of small fires which have occurred recently happened at the Phi Sigma Kappa house on Monday. The fire was extinguished without much difficulty, and little damage was done. A slight conflagration occurred a few days previously at the home of Mrs. Glenn, mother of Dr. Glenn. When she attempted to blow out the flame in a Rochester lamp, it exploded, throwing the burning oil on her clothing. Help was quickly summoned, and the fire was put out. Mrs. Glenn is recovering rapidly.
