

The Pennsylvania State College

Chartered 1855

FOR THE FREE EDUCATION OF BOTH SEXES

Schools of Language and Literature, History, Mathematics and Philosophy, Agriculture, Natural Science, Engineering, Mines and Metallurgy, offering courses of study in all branches of the Arts and Sciences. For further information address to the Student Council for investigation. If the Council find him guilty of practices contrary to the spirit of his honor pledge, they shall require him to withdraw from college.

THE REGISTRAR, State College, Pennsylvania

ARTICLE IV

Section 1. The Student Council shall conduct a trial by jury of any man accused of violation of the honor system.

Section 2. The jury shall consist of twelve impartial men chosen by lot from the signers of this constitution.

Section 3. A five-sixths vote of this jury shall be necessary for conviction.

Section 4. The trial shall be conducted in such a manner as to shield the reputation of the accused so far as is consistent with justice.

ARTICLE V

This honor system shall be in operation whenever signed by not less than three-fourths of the members of the two upper classes.

CALENDAR.

In order that the Calendar may be made as complete as possible, all college organizations are urged to hand in notices of meetings.

THURSDAY, FEB. 18

6 30 p. m. Northumberland county club. 23 Engineering building.

7.30 p. m. General Faculty meeting.

FRIDAY, FEB. 19

7.30 p. m. Lecture on Macbeth by Prof. F. L. Pattee in the old chapel.

SATURDAY, FEB. 20

7:30 p. m. Chess club, 130 Main.

SUNDAY, FEB. 21

11.00 a. m. Exercises to celebrate Groff Day. General Beaver will speak.

4:30 p. m. Episcopal Service. 114 Main.

6:15 p. m. Y. M. C. A. meeting. 529 Main.

MONDAY, FEB 22

Washington's Birthday. Half holiday.

8.00 p. m. Annual banquet of Agricultural Society. McAllister Hall.

COLLEGE NOTES.

Six members of the college orchestra will play for a dance given by the Gale Hose Company in Galeton tomorrow night. The men who are going are Ludwick, Meissner, Allport, Fisher, Anthony and Haugh.

L. H. Cooch, editor of the "Practical Farmer," Philadelphia, and H. Collingwood of the "Rural New Yorker" have both lectured to the students in the School of Agriculture recently.

Word was received a few days ago of the sudden death of Fred Smithkore, at his home in Reading. He entered with the 1910 sub-freshmen class, but remained in college only a short time.

The fourth annual Agricultural banquet will be held in McAllister Hall next Monday evening, Feb. 22nd. The faculty and students of the school of agriculture and the employees of the experiment station are all invited to be present to enjoy the excellent program and the general good time which have been arranged for.

Mechanical Feed.

The Junior Mechanicals gave a chicken and waffle supper to the Senior Mechanicals at McAllister Hall last Friday night. After the chickens and other things were taken care of, J. F. Mattern called on F. F. Simon to answer the question, "Why are we here?" R. M. Pennock talked on "The 1909 Mechanicals," and E. W. Stitt on "The 1910 Mechanicals." The formal toasts ended with "Pipe Dreams" by J. R. Taylor and were followed by impromptu by the faculty members and others who were present. The committee in charge of the affair was J. F. Mattern, R. D. Abbiss, and A. K. Shearer. About forty-five students and professors passed a very enjoyable evening carrying out the plans of this committee.

The Ben Greet Players Coming.

The Ben Greet Players, who for several seasons have been creating a sensation throughout the country by presenting Shakespearean plays in the Elizabethan manner, will be the attraction at the Auditorium on Saturday of next week, February 27, in the afternoon and evening. The Merchant of Venice will be played at a 3 o'clock matinee and