Let's Laugh.

That "clerk of yours seems to be a hard worker."
"Yes, that's his specialty."
"What, working?"
"No—seeming to."

Library Assistant (to visitor, who is wondering about in a puzzled manner) — Can I help you? Are you looking for anything special?
Visitor (absently) — No, thank you; I was only looking for my wife.

"Mother, here is a grammatical error in the Bible," said Lou, just home from college. "Kill it! Kill it," cried the dear old lady, "'tis the very thing that has been eating the bookmarks."

Little Girl — Papa, why do you always kiss mamma before you go to work?

Papa — Oh, it is only a habit.
Little Girl — Well, the butcher has the same habit.

No man ever yet lived a hog's life and escaped a hog's looks.

He — Do you ever use slang, Maggie?

She — Nit! Me man would bite me on the beak if ever I made a stab at any dope like that, see?

First Detective — What was the description of that absconding bank cashier we were told to look out for?

Second Detective — He was six feet tall and $50,000 short.

Pat got a job moving some kegs of powder, and to the alarm of the foreman, was discovered smoking at his work.

"Gracious!" exclaimed the foreman. "Do you know what happened when a man smoked at this job some years ago? There was an explosion which blew up a dozen men."

"That couldn't happen here," returned Pat calmly.
