

on Friday, getting into Wilkesbarre about 6.30, and then leaving there at 7.00 p. m. Saturday evening. Tickets for the train and for the game will be sold here all next week, probably at the Athletic store. Save your money now and count on going.

An Agricultural Trip Soon.

The junior and senior agricultural students and the second year students in the two-year course in agriculture are planning for an inspection trip of the orchards of Adams and Franklin counties. The plan is to leave State College by bus for Lemont at 1:30 p. m. Tuesday, Oct. 5th, returning the following Saturday, Wednesday and Thursday will be spent in the orchards and gardens about Bendersville, and Friday at Quincy, Franklin county. The schedule has been so arranged that those wishing to attend the Wilkesbarre game may leave Harrisburg Saturday morning either via Northumberland or Sunbury, reaching Wilkesbarre in time for the inspection of the market gardens there before the game. Those wishing to return direct from Harrisburg will spend the forenoon inspecting the orchards and greenhouses there, leaving at 11:50 and reaching Lemont at 3:59 Saturday afternoon.

The trip will be in charge of Professor Watts and Instructor Wright.

Northfield Echoes.

On Sunday evening at 6:30 in the old chapel each State man at the great student summer conference at Northfield will tell of his impressions. Come out and hear of State's success at this important meeting of college men. This will be the next best to going. State had the biggest delegation ever—twenty-eight men. We were recognized on all sides—played baseball with Harvard; the Navy fellows and Yale, as well as the leading speakers, shared our campfire.

Among them were Sir Alexander Simpson of Scotland, nephew of the Simpson who discovered chloroform—who also dined with us, Charles Studel one of England's wealthiest men, H. Timothy Stone, the leading men of the conference, Beach, Bowman, Campbell, Gates and other Yale athletes. We had places on all the important committees and four times we were asked to tell of the work at Penn State. From all sides we heard it: "What a splendid crowd these Penn State men are."

Senior Student Council Men.

The senior class has elected the following men to represent the class in the student council: J. A. Summers, S. J. McNary, R. E. Disque, A. H. Jones, A. F. Goynes, W. W. Muffly, R. Buka, E. W. McCleary, D. K. Sloan, J. M. McKee, C. A. Schnerr, W. J. Santee, George Ogilvie, W. R. Lams.

The men chosen for the student board were "Larry" Vorhis, ex-officio, George Ogilvie, W. R. Lams. These fifteen men with the ten elected from the junior class last June will hold their first meeting on Tuesday, Oct. 5, and the first Tuesday in every month thereafter.

The Pump House Will Not be Torn Down.

The scaffolding which has been placed upon the tower of the pump house is not, as many have hoped, for the purpose of tearing it down, but merely to support a block and tackle for the doing of a little repair work. It was noticed a few weeks ago that the pump failed to draw very much water from the well and in case a fire should occur would be insufficient to properly protect property. The casing of the well and the plunger are to be removed and a new plunger put in. This will make the pump as effective as before and will afford some better protection in case of a fire.
