EDITORIAL.

On last Monday evening when the Freshmen came out from their class meeting in the Old chapel the Sophomores were there and naturally a little scrap ensued continuing all the way down to the "corner." It no doubt furnished excitement for all the participants, and amusement for the spectators, but why should such a thing occur, and at such a time, when there was absolutely no reason for it? The upper classes last year scheduled five contests to take place between the underclasses, and set definite dates for them so as to eliminate all those unnecessary rushes where somebody is sure to get seriously hurt some time or another. It is not good spirit for the Sophomores to molest the Freshmen every time they have a class meeting. Let them have their meeting and depart from it peacefully and there will be no cause at any time for any false rumors to circulate concerning "the awful results of a rush."

Right at this point it would be well to speak of the use of the fire hose in the college buildings. On that same night someone used the hose in one of the upper stories to "duck" the Freshmen. The student or students who did that probably forgot about the resolution adopted last year by the entire student body in mass meeting, to the effect that the fire hose in all the college buildings would be unmolested at all times except in case of fire. This resolution should be lived up to if we want any assurance of protection from fire when the time comes. Don't forget your college! First your college, then your class!

It is with much regret that we speak of the resignation of Karl Lohmann '10 from the staff of the Collegian. He has worked faithfully and willingly in the interests of the paper and college for three years and will surely be missed. We don't care to accept his resignation but for the fact that he is acting on the advice of his physician to let up some on the work he is carrying. He is actively connected with the Press club and until last year was active as a member of the Penn State Farmer Board.

The Collegian is being sent to every person in College with the expectation that they will send in their $1.25 before October thirty first. After that the subscription price will be $1.50. The manager has received a few refusals from some of the students, but don't want to see any more coming in. The paper can't live without support and we want you to feel that you can't live without the paper. Inside of the next few weeks every student will be visited by a member of the business staff. Some will undoubtedly be missed, so to facilitate matters we would like everyone who will, to mail their checks to The State Collegian, Box 565, in care of F. H. Berkebile, Manager.

Lohmann '10, and the other is on the business end made vacant by the failure of Paul L. Wetzel '11 to return to college. Any junior wishing to compete should see A. W. Fisher '10 before Saturday or mail their address to the Collegian, Box 565.
