WHITNEY BROTHERS

There were four sons and they were brothers—The Whitney Brothers are the sons of a Methodist minister, and if any citation were needed to disprove the bald headed libel on ministers' sons, the Whitney boys are excellent examples. They are clean, manly, young fellows, whom to know is a joy and an uplift. An eastern critic has said: 'It is rare to find in one family four gifted brothers; rarer to find four possessing the same gift; rarer yet to find four brothers with voices so attuned that they can assume the several parts in a quartet; rarest of all to find four whose esprit-de-corps, close sympathy and magnificent team work enable them to give a program of such beauty, harmony, sympathy, balance and high appeal as that of the Whitney Brothers. One of the brothers is an accompanist of distinction; another is one of the best readers upon the concert platform. The Whitneys compel laughter or tears at will, delight the ear, warm the heart, in an evening that is unique, artistic and complete. Their program is most popular. It abounds in mirth, and yet all that these brothers do is invested in an atmosphere of refinement, dignity and beauty.

ROGERS GRILLEY RECITAL

The Rogers Grilley Recital is sure to be a pronounced success, for the worth and charm of this entertainment has been proven by many seasons of practical experience. They have appeared at the leading colleges and universities and the verdict is "immense," "great," "the best ever." Many years of enthusiastic effort have enabled these gentlemen to produce a program for the amusement loving public that not only provides pleasure, but conforms to what is best in art.
