this class of little fellows. In relating the trial of Mickey and his two little pals charged with entering a box car, he has shown us the tact and the unique answers of these little fellows when cross-examined. Their staunch refusals to "snitch" on each other show their loyalty to each other. Judge Lindsey has used the methods of the "square deal" and has accomplished much more than he could have done by using the prison cells for every little offense. He has placed each little fellow on his honor and in return has received the confidence of all of them. Every Denver boy knows he has a friend in the judge and that as long as he is straightforward and honest the judge will not "throw him down."

Judge Lindsey believes the future safety of the State lies in the boys and girls of today. That is why he is so enthusiastically entering upon his work in saving the little street gamin from his environment and giving him a chance.

Dean Crane in Mining Institute Work.

The following circular has been issued by C. L. Fay of Greensburg, Pennsylvania, Secretary of the Mining Institutes held in various parts of the state of Pennsylvania

The Mining department of the State Y. M. C. A. has just completed arrangements with Dr. W. R. Crane, Dean of the School of Mines and Metallurgy of the Pennsylvania State College, that should mean much to the members of the Y. M. C. A. Mining Institutes throughout the State.

The work at first will be experimental and if found satisfactory will be extended by the Y. M. C. A. Mining Institute movement throughout both the bituminous and anthracite regions. The plan will be started at once in the bituminous field.

Dr. Crane will also deliver special lectures on Mining before Y. M. C. A. Mining Institutes at ten of the
