gave State a hard tussle on November thirteenth.

Pitt lost to Notre Dame 6 to 0 while our team was idle last Saturday. Captain Roe's eleven was outplayed but put a grand battle against one of the strongest college teams in the Middle West. No new plays were uncovered by the Pittsburgers as a victory over Notre Dame would have meant little to them compared with one over W. and J. or State, so that the game was hardly a test of Pitt's strength.

Note.

H. D. Mason '07, at present with the Charletoi Coal company at Charletoi, Pa., arrived in State College last Tuesday to spend a week or ten days. He was baseball captain in 1907 and came back to "State" mainly to witness Saturday's game with Bucknell.

R. L. Patterson '10, who was injured in the electrochemical laboratory last week, was taken home on Monday. He was experimenting with chrome-thermit when an explosion occurred which burned his face quite badly. His eyesight was not injured, however. He expects to return to college in a couple of weeks.

R. S. Fridy, who has been here for the past week, now has full charge of the college power plant. He was formerly a member of the testing force at the General Electric company and was not in charge of the testing department as stated in these columns a few weeks ago through some misinformation.

Prof. Runkle represented the College Library at the annual session of the State Library Association, which held its meeting in the Carnegie Library at Pittsburg, Oct. 29 to 30.

C. A. Hogentogler '09, visited friends at college the first part of the week.
