The Cider Scrap.

On Saturday afternoon the Sophomores and Freshmen came together in their second scrap of the year. It was a good, clean fight from start to finish, and both classes are to be commended for the general good-feeling shown during the entire contest. There were a number of amateur wrestling matches along the edges, which made it more interesting for the spectators.

The Sophomores, although outnumbered, had the benefit of experience, and won out by the score of 36 to 24. The closeness of the score is probably due to the fact that the Freshmen gained some fighting experience in the Push Ball scrap two weeks ago. At any rate it is certain that they gave a good account of themselves and made the Sophomores fight mighty hard to win.

This was the first scrap ever fought here in which only tennis shoes were allowed to be worn. The result of the experiment was most satisfactory to all concerned, and has without a doubt improved the scrap considerably. The one crowning feature of the whole thing is that, as far as is known, not one man was even slightly injured.

The Senior Dance.

Under a very able committee, the plans for the Senior Dance, to take place during the Pennsylvania Day festivities, are rapidly nearing completion. The decorating is in charge of Vollmer, of Harrisburg, and, under his direction, the work will certainly be worthy of the occasion. The color scheme is to be green and white, and white and gold. The music is entrusted to the College Orchestra, and we are sure, therefore, of the successful rendition of that part of the dance, — really the most important part of all. W. H. Foster, chairman of the committee, expects to have the invitations ready before the end of the week. The subscription price is $4.50.
