

Who is John and Where Does he Live?

The Official Student and Faculty Directory of The Pennsylvania State College tells it all.

It gives the name, class, course, college and house address of every student and instructor. Also other useful local information

On sale at Toggery Shop next week

The New Forbes Field at Pittsburg where State plays Pitt on Thanksgiving

COLLEGE NOTES.

On November sixth Dr. Hunt took part in the dedication of the Agricultural High School of Baltimore county at Philopolis, Md. He made an address on the subject "Opportunities in Agriculture."

The college chapter, B. of St. A., will give an informal smoker to the Episcopal students and members of the faculty on Friday, Nov. 12, in the Engineering Club Room, 7.30 p. m.

The newly organized club of students from New York City and vicinity will be given a dinner during the Christmas holidays by Mr. J. G. White '82.

The college has had a number of copies of the article, "A Real Football Team," printed for the use of the county clubs in advertising our athletics. These copies can be obtained at the president's office. The article was an editorial in the New York Telegram and was printed in the Collegian last week. It has caused widespread attention and has drawn comments from many alumni.

The college has in preparation 15000 copies of a guide book of our campus and buildings. This book is to be ready for the Grangers' convention in December and for similar conventions to be held here from time to time. It contains much valuable information as to the size, arrangement, equipment and purpose of the various buildings.