Number Three!

The two entertainments of the Y. M. C. A. series already given stamps the course as one of the best ever presented here. On Friday evening the third of the series will be given by Walter Eccles and The College Singing Girls. The entertainment is of a different nature from those preceding, the main part of the entertaining force consisting of eight college girls. They are all trained singers, and their rendition of foreign songs, characteristic of different countries, and standard and original selections is of the highest order. Special costumes and props for each feature are the most noteworthy of which is the "Drummer Song," in which four of the company appear as drummer girls. The young women are assisted throughout the program by Walter Eccles, an entertainer of the first rank. His repertoire includes monologues, humorous songs, impersonations, and dramatic recitals. As a whole the performance is of a very high order, and is well fitted to sustain the reputation gained by the two that have already been given.

Der Deutscher Verein.

The fortnightly meeting of the Deutscher Verein held last Friday evening was a source of great interest and enthusiasm to the members present. Among the plans being elaborated for the year, the production of a German play is one of the most important. The play committee is hard at work reviewing suitable plays, and their choice will probably be announced within a few weeks. Professor Fehr gave a delightful talk in German, describing part of his trip abroad, and then, in English, gave many helpful plans and suggestions for the year's work. All students eligible for membership are invited to hand their names to the membership committee. We want a large enrollment this year, and a large number of members out trying for the play cast.
