The College Singing Girls.

The interest which centred upon the entertainment given by Walter Eccles and the College Singing Girls on Friday evening was conclusive evidence that the production was one of the best of its kind ever here. Continued encores were necessitated by the enthusiastic applause of the audience. The rendition of excerpts from the different operas, of the "Fortune Telling Trio," and other classical selections was so smooth and polished that evidences were easily apparent of naturally good vocal ability assisted by careful training. Other selections, of a more rollicking nature, were equally well rendered. Particularly worthy of mention are "Mo No-Be-No-Wa," "The Motor Girl," "The Hunt," and the "Drum Song."

The work of Mr. Eccles was of the highest character. In "Oh, You Scholar" he was so irrepressibly funny that his audience was nearly convulsed with laughter. In "The Impatient Patient" he has combined splendid humor with good acting, and the result is a sketch of the most delightful laugh producing variety.

The work of the entire company was, in fact, beyond reproach. Congratulations are due the entertainment committee of the Y. M. C. A. on their ability to select a really good entertainment.

Coming—The Pharsonians.

The Pharsonians will present their initial performance of the season next Monday night in the Auditorium and from the present outlook the show bids fair to be one of the best ever given by our college minstrels. Under the leadership of director Couch and president McCoy the men have been working hard for the past three weeks. Some new and valuable material has been added to the circle; the songs are all new and several originals will help give local color to the proceedings. Among the sketches presented will be Cook and Pearv at the Pole, A Genuine Hazing Bee, and the management promises for Monday night something of an entirely original nature. Just what this particular sketch will be we are not prepared to say but we feel safe in asserting that the entire show will be a perfectly good one and worthy of your patronage.

The organization will play in Williamsport on Tuesday; in Chambersburg, at a benefit performance for the senior class of Wilson College, on Wednesday; in Waynesboro on Thursday; and in Danville on Friday.

How Would "Larry" Look as "All-America" Quarterback?

The selection of Captain "Larry" Vorhis as quarterback on the "All-Pennsylvania" elevens of two Pittsburgh newspapers, his selection as "All-America" quarterback by two Philadelphia, two New York and one Boston paper has led us to believe that Penn State has a better chance to be represented on Walter Camp's "All-America" team this year than she has had since 1906 when "Mother" Dunn was in that theoretical lineup at center. Surely Vorhis deserves such an honor and the record of our eleven this fall merits such a distinction as that of having its leader on such a team. Colleges like Pitt, W & J, etc. have never had a player on Walter Camp's aggregation and it is only through more noted football prowess that we can hope for such recognition.

The Intercollegiate Debate.

On Friday evening, Dec. 10, our varsity debating team will debate the following question with the Franklin and Marshall team: Resolved, that Congress should pass a law providing for a progressive inheritance tax, the constitutionality conceded. On the same evening Swarthmore and Dickinson meet and debate the same question. The two winners will then meet each other a few weeks before Easter.

Our team, although composed mostly of new men, is a strong one, and there is no doubt but that it will give a good account of itself. The expenses of the team are met by $25 appropriations from each of the classes. Everybody should come out to the Auditorium on Friday night and hear our fellows win the decision.
