“State” Man Named for Governor.

John W. Fields of McConnellsburg who was graduated from State, Dept. of Agriculture, in 1898 has been named for Governor of the state of Oklahoma. For many years past, Farmer John Fields, as he is generally known, has been director of the Oklahoma experiment stations at Stillwater and is one of the most popular and prominent men in the state. Oklahoma's political career has been so unsuccessful in the past number of years, that the people are loudly crying for a man who will protect and advance their interests without fear toward the present Democratic party in power, and Fields has been unanimously named for the position.
