

Alcove. Instructors, students, alumni, and friends wishing to aid this movement may send their names to the College Librarian. Here is a line of activity in which the various City and County Clubs might well engage. Many individual items have come to the Library through the interest of these men in their local communities, and if successive college classes and clubs become Life Members, their influence would be perpetuated in the funds, the income of which will be used to build up a strong Pennsylvania Alcove.

Library Notes.

A gift of special importance to the engineering students is the report of the Royal Commission on the Quebec Bridge Disaster, in three volumes. The testimony is given in full, with photographs of the construction, and findings, with a supplementary volume of drawings and plates. The Library is fortunate in securing a copy of this Report.

Recent gifts to the Library include eighteen volumes from Judge Orady of the Superior Court, twenty-five volumes from General Beaver, one volume each from the St. Andrew Society of Philadelphia, from Mrs William T. Carter; and Mr J. G. Leach, all for the Pennsylvania Alcove.

The Penn Relays which will be held as usual this year on the last Saturday in April promise to be bigger than ever. In addition to the group races, the one, two and four mile championships, the one mile Freshman championship, and special events for the 100 yards, 120 yards hurdle, high jumps, broad jumps, shot put, hammer, discus and pole vault will be given. Some changes will be found in the list of college groups, but in the main they are much the same as last year.

Pennsylvania won all seven bouts from Columbia in a wrestling meet at Philadelphia last Saturday night.
