

Chemists' Trip.

The upperclassmen of the Chemistry school completed their western trip just before Easter. All the men report a most agreeable and instructive excursion. The work which was in charge of Professor J. B. Churchill and Mr. F. J. Kantman, began in Buffalo on March 10. Visits were made to the following establishments: The Lackawanna Steel Co.; The Schoellkopf Lannery, The Buffalo Pottery Co., the American home of the reproduced Willow ware, Pratt and Lambert, the Buffalo Smelting Works, The Developing and Funding Co., the International Acheson Graphite Co.; The Niagara Lead Co., the Upper and lower Power Houses; The Cliff Paper Co., The Niagara Coated Paper Co.; Wilham A. Rogers, Limited, the silverware house; and the Shredded Wheat Co. These are all in Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

At Franklin the party inspected the Eclipse Lubricating Oil Works on March 21. Then, in Pittsburg the soap factory of W & H Walker, the Pittsburg Provision and Packing Co., and the D. O. Cunningham Glass Co., were visited. Stops were made to The Pennsylvania Rubber Co., and The McKee Jeannette Glass Co. at Jeannette. The American Sheet and Tin Plate Co. at Monesson; the Pennsylvania Glue Co. and the Heidenkamp Mirror Co., at Springdale; The Pennsylvania Smelting Co., at Carnegie; and the National Lead and Oil Co., The Crucible Steel Co. of America, and Heinz's Pickle factory, at Pittsburg.

The trip closed amid good cheer and good fellowship at the banquet given by Dr. Pond in Pittsburg on March 25. In addition to the regular members of the excursion there were present President Sparks, Messrs. H. W. Mitchell, J. E. Quigley and E. S. Boyard, of the Board of Trustees, Mr. G. D. Chamberlin of Bradenton, and Mr. S. H. Smith of Jeannette. The affair was most enjoyable and brought the extended excursion to a pleasant close.

A Tie Game.

Rain prevented the completion of last Monday's game with the University of Vermont. As it was, the score stood 0 to 0 during the last half of the sixth inning and everything looked as though the contest would prove one of the finest pitchers' battles ever played on either Old or New Beaver field.

The visitors were retired in the sixth inning in one two three order. Then Workman started things rolling for State with a pretty single down the first base line. It was too dark for the umpire to see the soiled ball and he was right on strikes. Then when "Bill" Hurshman was at bat, there descended a torrent of rain that sent everyone hustling to find shelter.

Kieper struck out seven men and got himself out on a bunt in the second when the bases were full, by ranning Grand. This was Vermont's only chance to score but our team had several other opportunities to make runs, besides the one which was ruined by the rain.

In the first inning Workman was on second with two out but the necessary single was not forthcoming. In the second inning the same was true of Veritas, while in the fourth inning both "Larry" and Haddock were introduced on the sacks because of a lucky hit. Our men did much better base running than Vermont and it is believed that State would have won had the game been finished. However, both pitchers were in good form and keen regret was felt owing to the inability to finish such an evenly fought struggle. The score:

Russian Night.

Under the auspices of the Cosmopolitan Club, a most interesting Russian Literary and Musical night was held last Friday evening. The audience was quite charmed by the novel entertainment. Mr. Quevedo, the president of the club, gave a strong presentation of the aims and purposes of the organization. Excellent addresses were also made by Mr. El Srednic, on "Siberia"; Mr. Schwartz, on "Russian School"; Mr. Stern, on "L. Tostby and His Confession", and Mr. Zamoschin, on "Our Modern Literature".

Intermingled with the literary numbers, the singing and other musical features were most effective and agreeable. Particularly fine were the solo "Pirate", and the duet "In the Dark Orchard Valley". The chorus work, especially in the "Cossack Song", and in the two closing numbers, was excellent.

Plans are being made for a Latin American Night about the middle of May. The entertainment will be chiefly musical; and if it equals the Russian Night it will be well worth attending.

The State-Vermont game on Tuesday afternoon was too late for press and will not appear until the issue of April 14.
