SUBSCRIPTION

$1.50 per year or $1.25 if paid within 30 days after date of subscription

THURSDAY, APR 21, 1910

At the present time it appears well to generally hint that a most important feature in connection with the publication of a college paper is the financial support essential to its promotion and to its successful continuance. A number of faculty and student subscribers are still delinquent in the payment of this year's subscription and we earnestly ask that this matter be given immediate attention, thereby facilitating the task of the Collegian Board. Checks should be made payable to F. H. Berkebile and either mailed or dropped into the Faculty Exchange box.

An important meeting of the Athletic Association will be held in the Old Chapel, Monday, May 2, at 7 p. m. for the purpose of voting on the proposed amendment to the constitution. That a department of Wrestling be established as a part of the Athletic Association. At the same meeting, three assistant football managers will be nominated from the present sophomore class. Every member of the association should give some detailed thought to these matters, both of which are of vital college importance, and at the appointed time, all should be on hand to cast their votes. In order to amend the constitution, the votes of two-thirds of the active members are absolutely essential, so make it a point to be one of the necessary eight hundred men to cast a vote.

In regard to the stringent action taken by the college authorities relative to the perturbation created by wandering dogs in our chapel during services, the fact cannot be too strongly impressed on the students that all should take an active part in aiding to eliminate this disorder. The doors of the Auditorium are always promptly closed after the students have taken their assigned places, and if we are more careful in checking the advance of the animals toward the room rather than encouraging it, the result is certain to meet with the general approval of faculty and student body and we will be further manifesting our respect and reverence both for our imposing building and the services that are held therein.

A Word of Appreciation.

The following extract from an article in "The Orphans' Friend", a paper published at Greenville, Pa., where a home is provided for helpless children, proves how greatly the action of The Pennsylvania State College was appreciated by the authorities in charge of the noble work being done there.

"We wish in this way to express our thanks to the faculty and authorities of the Pennsylvania School of Agriculture for the interest they have taken in our efforts to create an interest in farming among our children. Thus far they have helped us in many different ways and quite recently on different days, three of the professors visited us and gave to the superintendent and matron some helpful suggestions along the line of their work and the children some interesting talks."

Alumni Dinner.

The annual dinner of Pennsylvania State College men will be given at the University Club, Fifth Avenue and Grant Boulevard, Pittsburgh, on Saturday evening, April 23, 1910, at seven o'clock. General Beaver and President Sparks will be present, and it is expected this will be the largest social meeting of "State" men ever assembled.

The committee in charge has completed plans for a big time, and promises that this dinner will be a record breaker. They are very desirous that you be there, and would ask that you notify any "State" men whom you may meet.

"Tannhauser."

"Tannhauser." A lecture on this opera, with musical interpretations, will be given by Miss Simmons and Miss Atherton on Tuesday evening, April 26, at 8 o'clock, in the Auditorium. The purpose of Wagner in writing "Tannhauser" will be discussed. A resume of the production will then be given. Interpretations by means of vocal solos, piano duets and quartets, and orchestral selections will be rendered.

It is earnestly hoped that our friends will co-operate with the Liberal Arts club in finding their places before the lecture is begun.
