Rogers-Grilley Recital.

The last entertainment of the Y. M. C. A. course was given on Friday evening by the Rogers-Grilley Company. The performance was a most delightful combination of charming music, artistic recitation, and sparkling humor. Mr. Rogers is a harpist of extraordinary worth, and all of his solos were marked by their great delicacy and depth of feeling. Mr. Grilley is one of the best humorists of the day, and the repeated encores demanded by the audience, showed the extent of appreciation that was felt. His selections, whether of character representation, of humorous stories, or of his own delightful verse, were rendered with equal skill. The entertainment as a whole was of the highest artistic value.

This recital, the last of the series of Y. M. C. A. entertainments, closes one of the best courses ever given here. Every number of the five performances has been entertaining and artistic, and has given the utmost satisfaction to the audiences. In expressing our thanks and appreciation for this course to the gentlemen of the Y. M. C. A. committee, we believe that we voice the opinion of all who attended the concerts. Our sincere wish is, that next season's course be just as good!
