

manner that kept her listeners interested and attentive at all times. The musical selections rendered by Miss Atherton and Mr. Canfield and the Orchestra, as well as the singing of Mr. Armstrong and the Glee Club, were worthy of great praise and accordingly were greatly appreciated.

Orchestra Trip.

The College Orchestra leaves this morning on a short trip. They will give an entertainment tonight at Philipsburg where they scored such a success last year. Tomorrow evening they will give a concert in Bellefonte.

Twenty eight men will be taken on the trip. This number includes Hamlin E. Cogswell, the able director, and H. P. Armstrong, our well known baritone soloist.

The program will consist of about ten numbers from popular composers, among which may be mentioned "William Tell," "Berceuse," violin solo by Mr. Meissner, "Nocturne" and "Melodie," cello solos by Mr. Arthur; "Faunnauser," and several others.

The orchestra is indeed a most worthy organization, for not only does it contribute to its own success, but also to that of almost every other musical organization of the college. The reputation it has made for itself assures large audiences and a successful trip.

A course in college songs is being given this year at the University of California.
