

runs to the good at the end of fifth, so that the result was never in doubt. McCleary hurt his leg in seventh inning and Carson went to his position in center field. The injury kept "Bull" out of the Navy contest.

Carson started in middle in the victory at Annapolis but his bad foot only lasted one inning; then Leidick went in and played a strong game. Piolett found the Navy batters weak and let them down with five hits and one run, while our players hit opportunely and thus clinched the argument. Pretty plays by Eberlein, Vorhis and Haddow were roundly applauded by a fine crowd of fair minded spectators, who cheered for any good play by favorite or opponent. The good feeling between the Navy and Penn State athletes was displayed when a baseball game for next year was arranged for by Coach McIlveen. The three recent scores follow:—
