A large and enthusiastic crowd gathered back of the library on last Friday morning, to hear the addresses commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the old orchard. Speeches were made by Dean Hunt, Dr. Buckhout, J. A. Runk '10, and Gabriel Heister, President of the Pennsylvania Horticulture Association. In the afternoon Prof. Wright spoke on the subject of pruning, and Prof. Stewart gave a practical demonstration, of orchard spraying which closed the session.

Principals' Conference,

The Conference of High School Principals which was assembled here last Friday undoubtedly accomplished the primary object for which it was called, namely, to bring the High Schools of the State into closer relations to the college.

An invitation was extended to all Principals of High Schools of towns and cities having a population of 10,000 and about four fifths of the number invited, accepted the invitation. They were entertained by a dress parade at 11:30 and at a luncheon in the Womans Building at 12.30, at 1.20 they met in the Foyer of the Auditorium for a short session and at 2:30 adjourned to Beaver Field to witness the Inter-scholastic meet and Baseball game. At 5 o'clock they assembled for another short conference in the Auditorium, lasting until 6:30. Then together with the Deans of the different Departments, Freshman advisers, and other officials of the College, they were entertained at dinner in McAllister Hall. During the dinner the guests were entertained by the Glee and Mandolin Clubs. After dinner, one-half an hour was devoted to a half dozen short impromptu speeches. The Conference again convened at 8 o'clock and lasted till 11.

Among the important questions considered were:

Can a wider range of elective units be made sufficiently flexible to allow more credits to subjects that train for life, such as History, Civics, and Economics, and Manual Training and other vocational work?

Would it be possible to have greater flexibility in both the number and the content of the units required for admission to College?

Do present entrance requirements emphasize quantity of work at the expense of quality?

How could uniform entrance requirements be secured for all Colleges in the State?

To what extent should a certificate of "moral character" be insisted on as one of the requirements for admission to College?

How can the High School best perform its double function of serving, on the one hand, as a finishing school for the majority of its pupils and of giving, on the other hand, a satisfactory preparation for College?

In what particulars, from the College point of view, should High School work be strengthened?

In what particulars, from the High School point of view, should the College entrance requirements be revised?

In the finals in the tennis tournament played last Saturday afternoon Lloyd defeated Twaddel in three straight sets:—6-2, 6-1, and 7-5.
