

THE PHARSONIANS.

Most Creditable Performance Ever Given Under the Auspices of This Organization.

The Commencement production of the Pharsonians on Friday night was a most enjoyable affair, and afforded much pleasure and satisfaction to the large audience. The traditional circle in the first part of the performance was made most attractive by the outdoor summer setting and the appropriate costuming of the men, in their flannels and straw hats. The circle was composed of Wray, (Interlocuter), Gray, Bloom, Piolet, Schwarz, Smith, Sparver, Lewis, Baer, Kunkle, Ogilvie, Cromwell, and Armstrong. The end men were McCoy, Breese, Eichellberger, Nelson, Cameron and Ludwig. Most of the jokes that were sprung were new and sparkling, and served to keep the audience in good humor at all times.

The most commendable part of the production was the varied and entertaining list of songs. Mr. Armstrong, in "Here's to the Girl" was in his usual splendid form. As the time draws near when we must lose him, we appreciate more and more his fine singing. Mr. Gray had in "If All the Moons Were Honey-moons" a most attractive song, and it was excellently given. "Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland" was sung with very good effect by Mr. Sullivan. The songs of the end men were all jolly and spirited, while the parodies were original and delightfully humorous. The songs were "Old Doctor Brown", by Mr. Breese; "Down Where the Big Bannans Grow", by Mr. Nelson; "Let Me Down Easy", by Mr. Eichellberger, and "The Soft Pedal", by Mr. McCoy. The first part of the program closed with the finale "He's a College Boy".

The second part was presented in a method entirely new here—that of straight vaudeville. The different numbers were all good, and some were intensely amusing. Particularly good were the monologue by Mr. Guthrie, the hand balancing and tumbling stunts of Messrs Golden and Watson; the Jefferies-Johnson bout, as presented by Mr. Hirschman and Mr. Sullivan; the scientific wrestling work of Messrs. Talbot and Lesh; Mr. Meade's conortion stunts; the marvelous sleight of hand work of Mr. Spangler, assisted by the Transue Brothers; and the musical act, Mr. C. O. Campbell and Mr. Moul. In the last mentioned number Mr. Campbell seemed perfectly at home, whether playing on a cigar box, an umbrella, or a barrel. His work was very skillful and interesting. As a grand finale, the entire company, armed to the teeth, presented the illustrated song "My Dream of the U. S. A."

Taken as a whole, the production of Friday night, was very good. Our thanks are due the company for giving us a pleasant evening of fun. Particularly, we should congratulate President McCoy, Mr. C. R. Campbell, the coach, and Mr. Armstrong, who helped in developing the chorus for staging so well the 1910 Pharsonians. The dance in the Armory after the performance was well attended and was very enjoyable to all.

INTERCLASS TRACK MEET

Events Will all be Closely Contested Between the College Classes.

The annual interclass track meet will be held on New Beaver Field this afternoon at 3 p. m. Unusual interest is shown in the meet this year on account of the fairly equal distribution of track stars in the classes of '11, '12 and '13; the seniors alone having but few men who will compete.

For the past two years 1911 has won the field laurels and has practically all the men, who have formerly taken places, entered to day, the only exceptions being Bubb and Talbot.

Handsome medals of gold, silver and bronze, the present of the Boston Alumni association, will be awarded to the winning competitors and to win one of these will be an honor indeed, considering the strength and ability of the men who will be pitted against each other in the afternoon's events.

Handicaps have been duly arranged by "Pop Golden" and his discretion in his assignments of these will equalize the meet to a very large degree, and make each contest very close.

THE JUNIOR PROM

The Farewell Reception to the Seniors to be a Festive Occasion.

On Wednesday evening at 8:15 p. m. the Junior class will give its farewell reception to 1910. This is one of the biggest events of the college year and vast preparations for a successful Assembly have been made by the committee in charge. The armory will be exquisitely decorated in a new style never introduced here before and the color scheme and harmony of the various decorations will undoubtedly surpass anything of its kind ever held in State's historic Armory.

An entirely new feature in connection with the affair this year is the introduction of a grand promenade, which will be led by Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Sparks. This will begin promptly at 8:30 in order to begin the dancing at 9 o'clock.

As has been an old State custom the Junior flag will be unfurled for the second time in the history of the class of 1911 and an address will be delivered by the Junior class President, J. E. Watson.

The programs to the Prom will be sold at the Athletic store this afternoon from 4 to 5:30 o'clock.
