

and McCleary were on bases, did our triumph over Susquehanna result. Although Kauffman pitched a strong game the visitors could not overcome the lead gained by "Eddie's" timely hit. In the eight and ninth innings Susquehanna scored a pair of tallies, but "Pat" Lynch really had the Selinsgrove nine under his thumb all the time. In 1906 Susquehanna held McCleary's team to a 3 to 0 score and two years ago they were only beaten 2 to 0 with the reliable Skemp in the box.

"Bud" Kelly played the final three innings of the recent game at second base; it was his first appearance in a varsity struggle since his injury at Fordham on April 14 and the popular second-sacker was roundly applauded when he trotted onto the field. In his absence Blythe and Bien have been covering the territory on both sides of second base in excellent style.

A great game was expected with Bucknell on Saturday, especially after the ten inning battle at Lewisburg one month ago. Tomorrow the annual game with the Alumni is played and on Wednesday the varsity closes a successful season against the All Class Nine.

The most successful entertainment of the season marked the close of the year for the Concert Orchestra and Combined Musical Musical Clubs. Last Saturday night a crowded house witnessed a most delightful concert when the College Orchestra, Glee and Mandolin clubs combined to give the visitors the best kind of music offered by any college musicians. If ever the people enjoyed the various numbers on a program it was on this occasion when each individual player was at his best and when encores were frequently called for. The soloists, Mr. Harry P. Armstrong, baritone, and Mr. Arnold Lohmann, violinist, gave selections that were enjoyed by all as was evidenced by the appreciative audience. As usual, the orchestra lived up to its standard of producing the best music possible. Parts taken by the Mandolin, Glee Club and Quartet were well carried and helped to make the commencement concert a success.

After the concert, those who so desired adjourned to the Armory and spent the remainder of the evening at the dance given by the Musical clubs. All agreed on having one of the most enjoyable times of the week.
