

PRAYER WEEK

Will Be Held Under the Auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and is Expected to Be a Great Success.

On the week commencing December fourth there will be held in the college a week of prayer. Among the men who have been called to conduct this series of meetings is Dr. Floyd Tompkins, rector of the Holy Trinity church, Philadelphia, one widely known for his influence and interest in young men and women. Every week he writes a very readable article in the "Public Ledger" under the Christian Endeavor topic. Read this article and it will give you a splendid introduction to Dr. Floyd Tompkins. He preaches three sermons every Sunday and people are turned away at the different services. It is possible he will be able to spend only one night here although he is trying to arrange for two and therefore let every man put down December sixth on his calendar.

Sunday is Association day, we are called to pray for the over 207,000 active members of the Young Men's Christian Association, over 60,000 of whom are on committees and managing boards; for the 4,000 secretaries that they may serve the young men of America to the utmost and at the point of their deepest needs.

Monday is Brotherhood day, pray for the revival of practical religious enthusiasm among the men of North America.

Tuesday is Adult Bible class day, prayer for the millions of young men in "the Neglected Continent" of South America.

Wednesday is Local Extension day, for a revival of home missionary enthusiasm, especially for the men of our own community.

Thursday is Social Service day, for a deeper interest in Christian social service by the men of our churches.

Friday is patriotic day, that every Christian man may prove his patriotism by helping to purify politics, by personal cooperation in movements for raising the standards of justice, government and personal morals.

Saturday is Immigration day, pray for those who are promoting varied forms of service for the more than 200,000 immigrant young men who are coming to North America, at points of embarkation, on shipboard, and at points of entry. Second, that church organizations and interdenominational movements may have a keener appreciation of the needs of these young men in the communities where they locate and may meet these needs in the spirit of Christ.

Remarkable was the result of a praying band of students at Williams who prayed into the existence of the foreign missionary movement in America. More world movements have been the result of College Students combined together for prayer.

Therefore this week of prayer conducted throughout the colleges of the country should claim the attention of every college man.

Special attention is called to the case near the desk, containing some of the best books, old and recent, for general reading. These are changed from time to time, and occasionally supplemented by particularly good articles in magazines. Books on the college man and woman, the problems of the student, his social and moral relations and duties are worthy of attention, and would make excellent reading for users of the Library, Sunday afternoons and evenings.

Model of Anthracite Breaker.

Through the generosity of Mr. Isaac Christ, of Tamaqua, Pa., the School of Mines has received a very fine and complete model of an Anthracite Coal Breaker. It is now being set up in the Mining Building and will soon be in running order.

This breaker is thoroughly modern in design, has rope drive throughout, is equipped with shaking screens, Christ Jigs, and all necessary machinery, and is of such a size that it can be run on a demonstration scale, showing fully the preparation of the coal for market. The original cost of constructing this large breaker was in excess of $7000.

Mr. G. R. Henderson Gave Lecture.

Mr. George R. Henderson, consulting engineer for the Baldwin Locomotive Works and other important companies, formerly Superintendent of Motive Power for the Santa Fe Railroad company, author of a book on locomotive operation on which he is an acknowledged authority, and who has traveled through Europe and South America, recently gave a very interesting lecture on the subject of "Economics in Train operation." Mr. Henderson talked to a large audience.
