1910 FOOTBALL REVIEW

Captain Gray's Eleven Has Brought Honor and Credit to Penn State.

HAVE PLAYED CONSISTENT BALL.

Game Has Developed Strong Material for Next Year's Team. Mauthe is Only Man to Receive Serious Injury Throughout Entire Season.

Five games won, two lost and one tied is Penn State's football record for the 1910 season. The Harrisburg A. C., Carnegie Tech and the Sterling A. C. were taken over by overwhelming scores in the order named at the beginning of the season. Then came the 10 to 0 defeat at Old Penn on October 22, when our men fought a plucky battle and "came back" exceedingly strong toward the end of the game.

A week later Villa Nova was able to hold our eleven to a no-score struggle on New Beaver Field. St. Bonaventure was next laid low and on November 12, the best triumph of the season was obtained in the 45 to 3 beating handed out to Bucknell.

For the third time in thirteen games we lost to Pitt in the final game of the 1910 season; those who witnessed the encounter are the only ones who know how gamely our light team fought and how little they deserved to finish the struggle eleven points behind the great Pitt aggregation. The only conclusion drawn from that argument is that we must take the gold-and-blue into more careful, consideration henceforth, since we can and will maintain our supremacy over our rivals in the western end of the State.

In the Pitt-State game captain Alex Gray, "Bully" Watson and "Henny" Weaver played their final football under the Blue-and-White; while it is more than probable that both Piolett and Johnson will be back in college next fall. "Big Alex" and Harry have both completed four years of consistent work on the gridiron for us and "Bully" just half as many; never have three harder-working, more valuable players left us in one year and all praise is due them. Workman, Riddle and Keller, who were strong-string men, have also done their final playing on the New Beaver Field gridiron while Albert Goedecke will probably be back again as a candidate for the 1911 team.

Harlow, Very, Barrett, Engle, Barron and Miller all played splendid football for State during this past season and should form a strong nucleus for our next eleven with Piolett and Johnson, while it is expected that Mauthe's ankle will round into shape long before next fall and that he will play even better football for us in the future than he did in 1909.

Wilson, Bebout, Clark, Rogers, Quirk, Vogel and Fleming also give promise of doing things for manager Ott's team next season, when it is hoped that our schedule shall include some such opponents as Cornell, Navy and Princeton as well as Penn and Pitt, and all of the five if possible.

Besides head-coach "Jack" Holtenback, "Bull" McCleary '10 and

"Henny" Scholl '00 were most valuable on our coaching corps of the past season. "Mother" Dunn '07, A. C. Read '92, "Fred" Heckel '98, "Eddie" Wood ex-'02 and "Dutch" Hermann ex-'10 also gave their alma mater valuable service. The material this fall was not up to last fall's standard, the player's lacked the experience gained through meeting some of the strongest teams usually met by State in the East and still we scored 243 points to 24 for our opponents. Already there is growing determination to do things in a football way in 1911 such as were impossible this fall, but the "Collegian" doffs its hat at the plucky, clean-cut sons of Penn State's 1910 football season and especially to those valiant players—Gray, Weaver and Watson—who have put every ounce of strength into the gridiron game for their alma mater for the last time. Their names will not soon be forgotten in the growing college nestled in the broad valley at the foot of Mount Nittany.

Let us return to a concise review of the past football season:

Oct. 1, State 58, Harrisburg A. C. 0, New Beaver Field; Oct. 8, State 61, Carnegie Tech 0, New Beaver Field; Oct. 15, State 45, Sterling A. C. 0, New Beaver Field; Oct. 22, State 0, U. of Penna. 10, Philadelphia; Oct. 29, State 0, Villa Nova 0, New Beaver Field; Nov. 5, State 34, St. Bonaventure 0, New Beaver Field; Nov. 12, State 45, Bucknell 3, New Beaver Field; Nov. 24, State 0, Pitt 11, Pittsburgh.

Points scored—State 248; opponents 24. Games won by State—5; lost—2; tied—1. By playing six games at home we saw our eleven work oftener on Beaver Field than we have ever had the privilege to do before.

Sophomores Defeat Seniors.

The game between the Seniors and Sophomores last Friday night in the Armory marked the opening of the Interclass basketball series. The Sophomores walked away with the game 26-11, the result never being in doubt after the middle of the first half, when some good floor work by Rogers and Maybee gave 1913 a safe lead. O'Neill and Davis for 1911 and Rogers and Maybee for 1913 were easily the stars of the game.

The managers of the several teams desire to call attention to the fact that up to this time only about two hundred tickets have been sold. There should be at least eight hundred tickets sold out of the student body here at State. Fellows, it is supporting a good cause, for these interclass games bring forth varsity material.

The lineup:—

1911	Guard	1913
O'Neill	Forward	Maybee
Yeckley	Center	Rogers
Miller (Filbert)	Forward	Harter
Metzger (Bowman)	Guard	Posey
Davis	Forward	Vosburg
Goals—Rogers 5, Posey 3, Maybee 2.		O'Neill 2
Davis 1, Yeckley 1, Vosburg 1.		Foul Goals,
Rogers 2, Davis 2, O'Neill 1, Posey 2

FIRST BASKETBALL GAME

Blue and White Team Will Open Season With Susquehanna University Tomorrow Night.

The game Friday evening with Susquehanna University will inaugurate the basketball season of 1910-11 at Penn State. Coach Hermann has rounded out a winning team from the best and most material that has ever turned out on our basketball floor. The strength of Susquehanna so far is uncertain, but no matter how strong they may prove to be, the home team can be counted on to do its share in bringing about a first victory.

Coach Hermann and Captain Blythe have cut down the squad to thirteen men, placing them on the training table till the close of the season. Those who have been selected to fight for positions on the team are: Captain Blythe, Haddow, McIntyre, Shore, Young, Amidon, Hariz, Hauser, Craig, Sheldon, Vosburg, Posey and Green. If the score permits, everyone of these men will have a chance to show his ability against Susquehanna tomorrow night.

From now on, scrimmage for the team will take place three times a week, the remaining two nights will be devoted to handling the ball on the floor and running. In this way the men can get all the floor practice necessary and still keep in good physical shape for the entire season. Manager Sleppy has completed his schedule consisting of fourteen games, half of which are to be played on the home floor. Let everyone make it a point to turn out to these games in the Armory and give the team our support.

Penn State at Cornell.

It is becoming a well known fact that whenever State men gather, that gathering is most likely to be a feed, and this fact is well illustrated by a recent affair of this kind at Cornell.

R. V. Mitchell has been making an experiment on poultry feeding, and a short time ago, was desirous of securing expert judgment on his fowls as effecting tenderness, flavor, texture and juiciness. He communicated his plans to other State men, at present at Cornell, and received their hearty support. Roasting was done under careful supervision and the resultant test was a "Dinner fit for the gods" to use the phrase of Paul Work '10.

After careful and scientific determination of the points included in the test, the birds were rapidly disposed of and thoroughly enjoyed by all present.

Those who assisted in the test were Prof. J. P. Stewart, C. F. Noll, '06, Mrs. C. F. Noll, C. E. Myers, '08, Paul Work, '10, W. H. Van Kirk, ex-'12, C. D. Shimmell, ex-'11, and R. V. Mitchell, ex-special.

A general talk over old times at Penn State followed and the meeting broke up with vows that it should not be the last.

DAD (A. J.) ELLIOTT

An Opportunity to Become Acquainted with the Character of this Wonderful Man.

Mr. A. J. Elliott was born near Gilman, Ill., October 18, 1875; he attended the first Student Conference at Lake Geneva, Wis., in 1895. He graduated from Grand Prairie Seminary in 1896, and from Northwestern College of Liberal Arts in 1902. He played left end for the University football team for four years and was named all Western end in '01. He was captain of the University Track team in the spring of '01. He is a member of the Delta Tau Delta Fraternity; was appointed to the Oratorical Contest from the School of Oratory; was President of the Student Y. M. C. A. during his junior and senior years and appointed Class Marshal by the faculty for the exercises of commencement week. He was also elected a member of Derv, honorary fraternity of all-round college men in Northwestern University.

"Dad" Elliott is an "old war horse" that has been up against the game and does not talk through his hat nor his hair. He is a most practical and helpful college man and any college man who comes in contact with him will find a full-blooded man who hates evil and knows, too, how to bring to bear upon the struggle against evil, the power of religion.

POPULAR OPINIONS

"Mr. Arthur J. Elliott is one of the most effective and attractive men in Christian Association work. A thorough college man, famous athlete, friend of men, he is unusually popular with men. I am glad he is coming to the University of Illinois."—Bishop William F. McDowell.

"I heard with much interest Mr. Elliott's address Sunday afternoon. I believe he presents the logic of the true life for young men. Every college man ought to hear him." Prof. B. F. Eyer, (Professor of Engineering, Kansas State Agricultural College).

"Dad" Elliott is a college man himself, and knows how to deal with the problems peculiar to the college students. Having made a record as an athlete while a student, he can deal with the physical, as well as the mental and moral, side of the life of the college men." Manhattan (Kan.) Journal.

"In hearing Mr. Elliott I was impressed with his intense earnestness, with his knowledge of the things about which he speaks, and with his fearlessness in saying plain words about evident evils. His address ought to have great effect on those who hear him."—J. D. Magee, former state secretary of Iowa.

Pharsonians.

The college minstrel organization, the Pharsonians have been steadily at work for the past few weeks on their new show, and from all indications, this year's production will surpass anything given hitherto in State College.

In all probability, the men who will participate in this year's show will be those whose names follow: Circle—Lewis, Sparver, Filbert, Bear, James, Dougherty, Piolett, Gray, Denning, Kelley, J. F., Vorhis, Zullinger, Smith, B. G. Ends—Leyden, Nelson, Ludwick, Guthrie. Specialties—Yessler, Stonerod, Weston, Salom.
