AN EASY VICTORY

Blue and White Five Overwhelms Albright in Fast and Exciting Game.

There was a joyous gathering in the Armory last Friday night when coach "Charley" Kechner's Albright College basketball five was trounced 50 to 9. The interest taken by the undergraduate body in the floor game was well shown by the loyal crowd estimated as no less than one thousand "studes", all of whom enjoyed the fracas immensely and part of whom were near enough to hear the good things handed out by the visitors' coach.

There were some new faces in the opening lineup as McEntire and Posey were seen at the forwards, "Jack" Haddow as usual at center, and Sheldon and Young at the guards. This was continued through out the first half except when Vossburg replaced Sheldon with but five minutes to go. Young, Haddow and Posey were the star point-winners in the period which was a complete walkover ending 26 to 4 in our favor. Despite the fervent rooting of Coach Kechner, the Albright tossers seldom brought the ball down under State's basket and they secured but one field goal and two fouls during this half.

Shore and Craig, forwards, "Charley" Amidon, center, and Hartz and Vossburg, guards, was the lineup which started the second half for us while Albright's roster remained intact. The slaughter was continued in the same fashion as during the first half and "Athletic Charles" was the worst offender against Albright's defense; when he got tired passing the ball out from under the basket to the other four men, he reached up and "handed" it in into the basket, negotiating in all five goals. Craig and Vossburg each secured two field goals also, while Captain Blythe, who went in during the last couple of minutes in Greene's place, annexed a score for each minute played. Greene had been substituted for Craig in the middle of the second half.

Every man of the dozen played a dashing, aggressive game and the remaining contests at home with Gettysburg, Lehigh and Bucknell, and those abroad with Swathmore, Susquehanna and Bucknell are eagerly awaited. To-night Gettysburg is encountered in the Armory and a victory means much as our record of four victories and three defeats to date can be much bettered by winning this struggle. Captain Blythe's five is evidently "going well", the men are training rigorously and only misfortune can prevent their finishing the season with the best basketball record made here in the last five seasons if the present form is maintained.

The score—
Penn State 50
Albright 9

THE WRESTLING MEET.

One of the Greatest Athletic Events of the Year.

In what promises to be one of the big happenings of the season in our athletic world, Penn State will hold a wrestling meet with Lehigh University in the Armory on Saturday night at seven o'clock. Last year a thousand men saw the great victory that our team won from Old Penn's wrestlers, and this year there should be at least fifteen hundred men cheering for the team. In wrestling, just as much as in football or baseball, encouragement is keenly felt by the team, and let us therefore give the men all the support that is in our power.

Manager Neidig, assisted by Mr. Lewis and Mr. Knight, has been working ceaselessly for the success of the first meet of the season. The team, as a whole, is in fairly good condition, and as all of the men, with one or two exceptions, were on the team last year, we have no difficulty in predicting the kind of wrestling they will show us. The trials for places, held on Friday night, resulted in some of the closest matches we have seen here, and although a varsity team has been chosen, there is also in almost every weight a man who is a mighty close second. As a result of the trials, Glanville was given the decision over Park in the 115 lb class in a hotly contested match which brought forward some very skillful work. In the 125 lb. class Neidig very successfully captured first honors over Crouse, by a decisive fall, and in the 135 lb class Diehl also won by a fall from Fisher, after some very neat wrestling.

In the next two bouts, the 145 and 158 lb. classes, the men were so evenly matched that there was great difficulty in awarding the decisions. Morrison and Karcher gave an excellent exhibition, and the judges called for an extra period before they finally selected Morrison as the winner. Very and Schollenberger, in the 158 pound class, gave the greatest scrap of the evening. So evenly matched were they, and so skillful, that after three periods of the most exciting kind of work, the judges reserved their decision until another match could be held. On Saturday, Very succeeded in gaining the decision after another hard match. In the light heavyweight class, Lesh won by a clean fall from his opponent Warner; and in the heavyweight class, Engle threw McVean, in a hard contest.

The team which Lehigh is sending here is by no means to be regarded lightly. The men in the three lightest weights have been doing excellent intercollegiate work, and are of first class rank. The other men, while not so experienced, are very nearly as good, and altogether Lehigh has a very strong, well balanced team. In attending the meet, therefore, we should have an opportunity to root for our team, but we shall also see a splendid and hard fought contest, well worthy of a place in our athletic history. Let the slogan be therefore: "All out for the Lehigh Meet."

Have an olive. Everybody is in on it.

The Pharonian Show.

The Pharonians have been practicing for several weeks in preparation for their annual show, to be held this year in the Auditorium on the evening of February 22. The performance will be a great deal different from the ones held in previous years. The chorus will be larger by at least ten men, more singing and a bunch of good spicy jokes will be introduced.

The first part will be a minstrel as heretofore with Nelson '11, Ludwick '11, Guthrie '11 and Leyden '14 as end men. The specialties will be something different, there will be several musical numbers by Armstrong, Dunning and Gray as well as acrobatic stunts. The costuming is entirely new, the latest and best have been secured for the circle and end men.

An attempt is being made to arrange a show in Bellefonte preliminary to February 22 to get an idea of how the show will look when staged. A trip has been arranged as follows:

March 13, at Wilson college; 14, at Harrisburg; 15, at Bloomsburg; 16, at Wilk Barre; 17, at Scranton.

We have been assured that the show will greatly excel those of previous years and that it will be worthy of the support of every person here at State.

Professor Lindbergh, of the Department of Metallurgy is conducting a series of experiments at the Cold Blast Charcoal Furnace at the plant of McCoy and near Bellefonte, the objects of these tests being to determine the effects of changes in the humidity of the air being blown into the furnace on its operation. The tests will be continued for several weeks.
