made uniform for each end of the commonwealth, at least. In future years probably every college in the State may see fit to adopt the same rules governing those men who represent them in athletics and such is the ultimate object of "Pop's" mission. The office came to him through the National Collegiate Athletic association and he has jurisdiction over all the N. C. A. A. colleges of the State, except Pennsylvania, in the matter mentioned. He has already been to Pittsburg to look into matters in the western end of Pennsylvania, and later will turn his attention to the eastern end of the State. At the recent N. C. A. A. meeting in New York city director Golden was also appointed on the basketball rules committee with Dr. Savage of Oberlin and on the "Athletic Research Committee" which annually holds a thorough discussion on "Amateurism and Summer Baseball."

The New Milling Building.

A delegation of the prominent millers of the state, consisting of Mr. H. V. White, president of the State Millers' association, Colonel Miner, Mr. Landis Laren, A. B. Spanogle, J. M. Hayes and James Elliott, spent Monday and Tuesday February 13 and 14th at the college. The proposition of a new Experimental Milling building was taken up and action taken on the construction and equipment of the building. The proposed building was designed by Mr. Dedrick, former president of the State Millers' association and now head of the department of milling engineering. Many of the leading firms manufacturing milling machines, have signified their intention of assisting in the equipment of the building.

The Football Dance.

The annual football dance given at McAllister hall last Saturday night turned out to be one of the most successful social functions of the season. The fifty couples in attendance danced till midnight amidst the gayety of their surroundings. The scene where the many colors intermingled harmoniously with the surrounding decorations was pleasing to the dancers. Pennants of the various colleges, with a large State banner much in evidence, were artistically arranged around the walls of the dance hall. To the committee in charge is due much praise for the success of the dance. Members of the college orchestra furnished the music that aided in making the affair a most enjoyable one for all those present.

Good Roads Movement.

The good roads train, which is being run under the direction of the School of Engineering in cooperation with the State and United States Highway departments, continues to attract the interest of hundreds of people at every lecture. Up to the present date lectures have been delivered at about thirty places to a total of about 15,000 people. These lectures are illustrated by lantern slides and road making apparatus which forms part of the train's equipment. The schedule for this week includes stops for lectures and demonstrations at Altoona, Patton, Bellwood, Clearfield, and Lock Haven.

Golden Named as Chairman.

Athletic-director Golden is now working as chairman of two committees to divide the colleges of Pennsylvania into two districts so that the rules governing the eligibility requirements for athletes may be

The Band Concert.

Last Sunday evening the Cadet Band gave another of its very excellent sacred concerts in the Auditorium. A large number of both the students and town people were in attendance and all agreed in pronouncing last Sunday's concert the best which the band has given this college year. The director, Mr. Snavely '12, as well as every member of the band deserves great praise, for the quality of the music produced, and we may well feel proud of our cadet band, a real asset to our college life which only comparatively few colleges can claim.

Each number of the concert was rendered in an exceptionally fine manner and showed the result of repeated practice. Life's Lullaby, a baritone solo by A. P. Grey 3rd, was produced in his usual good style. The program in full follows:

March, Chicago Tribune, Chambers; overture, Semiramide, Rossini, sextette from "Lucia di Lammermoor," Donnizetti, Messrs Moyer, Jones, Moul, Crawford, Van Reed and Snavely, selection, Il Trovatore, Verdi, baritone solo, Life's Lullaby, Gerald Lane, Alex Gray, 3rd; overture, Light Cavalry, Suppe, intermezzo, Dance of Honeybells, Mantia; overture, Lustspiel, Kele-Bela, march, Stars and Stripes, Sousa.

Alumni Quarterly.

The second issue of the Alumni Quarterly was mailed on Monday. The work is a thorough and systematic presentation of all the points of interest which have taken place since the first quarterly went to press. It contains, among the main topics. Extracts from the President's report to the Board of Trustees, an article of 15 typewritten pages on the extension work in the various schools, "A Trip in Alaska," written by one of our alumni; an account of the Y. M. C. A. campaign, including an interesting chart showing the number of Y. M. C. A. members in relation to the college enrollment during the past few years, General College Notes; Undergraduate Notes; News from the Local Alumni Associations; and News from the various classes.

The Quarterly is ably carrying out its plan of uniting our alumni, who, heretofore, have had no unity of plans, or means of communicating with the college or with one another. Great credit is due P. E. Thomas, for the untiring effort he is devoting to the work of making our alumni a united body, and in particular, for the excellent work he has done on the Alumni Quarterly.

"UNCLE REMUS" REPRODUCED.

Highly Entertaining Lecture by Mr. Wyche.

Last Saturday's number in the Free Lecture course was most acceptably filled by Mr. Wyche, President of the Story Teller's League. Mr. Wyche spoke of the value of keeping alive the old folk stories, and especially in this country of preserving the old negro tales, which compose a distinctive field of their own. A large part of his subject was devoted to Joe Chandler Harris, who has in his "Uncle Remus" stories contributed to a great work in gathering and keeping together the rapidly dying tales. Mr. Wyche told in a fascinating manner some of the old stories about Br'er Rabbit, Br'er Fox, The Tar Baby, the origin of the Firefly, and several others, equally amusing and interesting. He held his audience interested at all times, and furnished a very pleasant evening's entertainment.

Convention to be Held Here.

Dr. Baker returned on Tuesday, Feb. 14, from Philadelphia with the news that he had secured for Penn State the privilege of entertaining the members of the Pennsylvania Forestry association in their annual convention. The society has a large membership, and has been very influential in causing the purchase of reserves, in founding the school at Mount Alto, and in advancing in many other ways the interests of forestry. Each summer the Association holds a convention at some place of interest from the forester's standpoint. Last year they met at Mt. Pocono, and the year before at Mount Alto.

The convention will be held here on May 24, 25, 26. Not only will the College at large be inspected, and the Forestry school in particular, but also a trip will be made over a part of the barrens. This section is different from anything the former conventions have seen, and should prove of great interest to the members. The entertainment of these visitors rests not only with the Forestry school, or with the College, but with all of us. Taking it from a selfish standpoint alone, we shall have another opportunity of making the work of the College known, and it behooves us therefore to make as successful as possible the meeting of the Pennsylvania Forestry Association.

Spring Reexaminations.

Official notice is hereby given that, in response to a petition from the student body, the General Faculty, at a meeting held February 16, has voted that the regular spring reexaminations be scheduled for Saturday, March 11, and Sunday, March 18, and that such reexaminations as cannot be scheduled on these two Saturdays be held on the preceding Fridays, March 10 and 17.
