PENN STATE DOWNS YALE

Old Eli's First Defeat in Yale Territory

ENGLER SERIOUSLY HURT.

Glanville, Neidig, Schollenberger and Very Win Their Bouts, But Yale Men Turn Tables on Morrison, Lesh and Engle. Team is Honored on Return Home.

On Friday February 24, Penn State wrestling team won a 4-3 victory from Yale, at the gymnasium in New Haven. The meet was extremely fast and hotly fought from start to finish, and was a great win for our team and for the college. As Yale beat the Navy 4-3, and the Navy team defeated Princeton 5-0, with two draws, it looks as though we had a champion team. As there were several social functions on the night of the contest, the attendance was very small, and both teams felt the lack of encouragement. That our men overcame this handicap, and that occasioned by the long trip, is all the more to their credit.

The contest was held under the same ruling as the Lehigh meet held here, except for the fact that when the men were brought back after having wrestled off the mat, no holds were allowed. The man who was underneath took a similar position on the mat, but the other man was compelled to start without any hold. The referee was Mr. Markle of New Haven.

The first bout, between Hitchcock, Yale, and Glanville, Penn State, started with a spirited rush. The men were very fast and evenly matched, and the entire 9 minute bout was fought with little advantage on either side. Most of the time was spent standing up, and neither man was able to get a decided hold on his opponent. The end of the bout passed in as spirited a manner as the start, and the bout was then declared a draw. As it had been decided to wrestle off all ties after the meet, Glanville was taken in hand by Director Golden in preparation for the bout that was to follow.

In the 125 pound class Colver, Yale, was opposed to Neidig, Penn State. This bout started in as fast a manner as the first; but quickly reached its climax. After a minute's hard, rough work, the men were on the mat, with Colver holding Neidig by an arm roll. By a quick shift, however, Neidig changed over, gained a half Nelson, and threw his opponent with the same hold that was so successful in the Lehigh meet. The fall, in 1 min 27 1-2 sec., was the quickest one of the meet, and was a great win for our plucky manager.

Morrison Penn State, met Wheeler, Yale, in the 135 pound class. Wheeler is one of the veterans of the team, and one of the best men on it. The bout was very fast for 5 minutes. Both men wrestled hard taking many chances and trying frequently for holds. After the full 9 minute period, the bout was given to Wheeler for superior aggressiveness. Morrison, however, deserves credit for the clean hard fight he produced during the entire bout.

At 145 pounds, Little, Yale, clashed with Schollenberger, Penn State. After a short period of foot work, on the mat, in which both men tried repeatedly for holds, Schollenberger rushed in, lifted his man from the mat, and threw him heavily. Gaining a bar hold on one arm he turned Little over, and gained a fall in 3 min 50 sec. The fall was very neatly gained, and put an end to one of the hottest and fastest bouts of the evening.

Avery, Yale, was Very's opponent in the 158 pound class. The men were of the same build, and in other respects very evenly matched. Very, however, had a marked advantage in strength. After 4 minutes of strenuous work the men took to their feet, neither succeeding in keeping the other on the mat. The last three minutes were very fast, with Very taking the aggressive most of the time. At the end of the period he gained a well merited decision for his superior work in aggressiveness.

In the light heavy-weight class Capt. Cleveland of Yale met Lesh, Penn State. As Cleveland has not lost a bout during four years of intercollegiate wrestling, it looked bad for our own veteran. The bout proved to be the roughest of the meet, and was only decided at the end of the period. Lesh missed several chancery holds, and was underneath when they went to the mat. He broke all the holds Cleveland tried, and was not at any time near being down. Cleveland was given the decision on aggressiveness, but Lesh none the less is to be congratulated for fighting a great battle.

Periy of Yale, was opposed to Engle in the heavy weight division. At the very start, Engle went after his man hard, and succeeding in throwing him at the edge of the mat. They were brought back, and Periy was placed on top. He succeeded in getting a bar on one arm, but Engle got up with the man clinging to him. As they worked across the mat, they fell together, and the force of the fall broke one of Engle's ribs. Although only two minutes had passed, he fought pluckily to the end of the bout; and smelly showed true Penn State spirit by sticking to the end—Hampered as he was, he could not fight to advantage, and Periy gained the bout by decision.

The score, therefore stood 3-3 when the lightweights were called upon to wrestle off the tie. Under the most trying and exciting circumstances, Glanville stepped upon the mat to break the tie in our favor. He started speedily to work his man hard, and the bout was very fast. Hitchcock gained a chancery hold, but Glanville secured a bar and body hold by which he kept Hitchcock on the mat until time was almost up. Neither could obtain a hold, and the end of the 3 minute period found them fighting hard for the advantage. The bout was awarded to Glanville for his aggressiveness, and therefore caused the tide of victory to turn 4-3 in our favor. Let us all say "Well done, men", and congratulate the team and the college on another notable victory.

BASKETBALL SEASON CLOSSES.

Blue and White Team Winds Up Successful Season by Trouncing Lehigh and Bucknell.

The final two games of our 1910-11 basketball season were played last week and they resulted in two of the best victories gained this year. Lehigh was taken over 34 to 13 last Wednesday night and on Friday, Bucknell was vanquished 34 to 16, both battles being staged on the Armory floor.

It did not seem possible that our five, with Captain Blythe out of the fray on account of an attack of the grip, could give Lehigh her worst defeat of the season but such proved to be the case. Hartz played a great game at Blythe's guard and our men outpassed the visitors in bewildering fashion during the most of the game. Shore was almost in the form he displayed in the earlier Columbia and Bucknell contests, five field goals going to "Porkys" credit.

The first half ended 17 to 9 in our favor, Shore, McEntire, Young, Haddow and Hartz making the points for the Blue and White. In the second period Lehigh did not secure a field goal until within one-half minute of the end of the game, when White got the lonely Brown and White score from field. Craig secured three pretty field goals in the 13 minutes he played, and the Lehigh team was swept off its feet in a manner duplicated, by no other five than Penn State this winter. "Athletic Charles" secured a nice goal before the battle was over and another splendid victory was chalked up for our men.

On Friday night the season was closed by a good triumph over Bucknell, the final total for the season being 9 victories and 4 defeats. The first half was too close for comfort, Captain Blythe still remaining on the sidelines. Several times the Lewisburgers were within one or two points of tying the score, the Orange and Blue five working might and main for a victory. After a double foul had been missed on both sides, McEntire opened the scoring with a neat field goal, "Mac" proving the backbone of our offense during the entire game. Shore made a foul goal and Young added a clean goal from field on a long shot. Shore made another from the foul line but Kurtz got two of the same variety. Bartholomew now scored from field but Haddow evened this up by caging a nice one. Shore's basket was now followed in quick succession by field goals for Bartholomew and Zehner and a foul goal for Kurtz. Then McEntire and Shore made field goals, as did Haddow, whose score did not count, however, as referee Tuner blew his whistle with the ball on its way toward the basket. The final score of the half was State 14, Bucknell 9.

Captain Blythe assumed his regular position at right guard at the first of the second half and proved the backbone of our defense for the rest of the game just as McEntire was on the offense. Our five now pulled together in great style and the result of the half was 20 to 7 against Captain Kurtz's men. McEntire, Young, Haddow, Blythe and Amidon secured our scores from field while Shore made two fouls, for Bucknell Kurtz and Bartholomew secured field goals in the second half and put a final nail in the goal. The week proved a very profitable closing to the football season with the clean cut victories which earned victories over Lehigh and Bucknell. The scores follow:

LEHIGH, 13; STATE, 34. BUCKNELL, 16; STATE, 34.

PENN STATE... Short, Haddow, Hartz, Young, McEntire, White, Cleveland, Periy, Engle, Glanville, Neidig, Colver, Morrison, Wheeler, Lesh, Avery, Little, Schollenberger, Hitchcock, Zehner, Bartholomew, Kurtz, Amidon.

HERE NEXT SUNDAY.

An Opportunity to Hear One of the Very Biggest Men we Shall Have this Year.

Graham Taylor, D. D., Founder and resident warden of the Chicago Commons, a Christian settlement, ranking with the Pull House, as one of the first in the world, President Chicago School of Civic Philanthropy; Professorial lecture in sociology in the University of Chicago, Professor of Social Economics in the Chicago Theological Seminary, author, Constructive Philanthropist, friend and guide to all classes of men; master of Civic, Industrial, and government work, will speak here next Sunday. He comes from Chicago for this single Eastern engagement. He refused all offers of the largest eastern colleges, but was so impressed by the spirit of Penn State men whom he met at Lake Forest and Toronto, that he was finally convinced that he should make the trip. Now it is up to us to make good and turn out to hear him.

W. D. BATES' 11 WEEK

entirely devoted. With Dickinson and Yale with Swarthmore at the head.

Concluded this week one of the most interesting teams competing in the meet. H. E. S. Dickinson, Cornell, U. I. E. Ross, Swarthmore, and Dickinson. Dickinson will be represented by Charles W. Thompson, 11. Swarthmore will be represented by the men who will represent on that team H. C. Duff, H. B. Stigler, J. A. Rippey, H. M. Keebler, 11 all.

The question to be debated by both teams, "Resolved that our attention should be shaped toward the general abandonment of the protective tariff." Our team that debate Swarthmore will uphold the affirmative side of the question, while the team which debates with Dickinson will defend the negative. Let every Penn State man be in his seat in the Auditorium at 8 p. m. Friday evening ready to show his loyalty to the team, and to cheer on to victory the men who have worked so hard in preparing for this debate.

THE COLUMBIA MEET

Our Wrestlers Meet Columbia on Saturday.

After the great work they did against Yale on Friday, the team meets Columbia in the Armory on Saturday night. Let us all turn out to support our capable bunch of men. Not only do they need our cheering, but also our financial support, since the trips must be paid for by the home games. The Columbia team will get here on Friday evening and will stay until Sunday morning. There is no doubt that they have a strong team that will make our wrestlers exert themselves to the utmost.

The classes in which Columbia is particularly strong are the 125, the 145, and the heavy. It might be mentioned that Caruthers, who represents Columbia in the 145 pounds class, is a brother of J. Bayard Caruthers, '11. In order to help our team to the utmost, let us attend as we did the Lehigh meet, and cheer for the best wrestling team in our history.

Trustees Take Notice

This evening at eight o'clock in the assembly room of the agricultural building, Mr. Alfred Gaskill will give an illustrated lecture on the subject, "How a State is Protecting its Forests from Fire." Mr. Gaskill is Director of the State Game and Wildlife Occupying Department. He has accomplished a remarkable specialty along the line of protection of forests from fire, one of the most enemies of the forest. A very excellent opportunity is presented for any one who is interested in forestry to gain practical knowledge on this important problem. Let every man turn out.

General Feed

General feed and feed shop prepared to deliver even to the remotest corners by the 1912 motor trucks, which will be held at the State College on Friday. The feed is prepared by some of the best feed men in the State, and the quality of the feed is of the highest. Mr. W. W. Duff and A. Ritter.
