Can We Do It better? It would indeed be gratifying to send every subscriber a copy of the college paper with a fresh bouquet of spring flowers attached to the editorial column but unfortunately the inconsistency of the student body at certain times prohibits it.

In other words, have you ever heard of the Penn State Musical Clubs? They gave a very exclusive entertainment to about one hundred and fifty people on last Friday night. This vast audience warmly endeavored to show their appreciation of the merits of the different clubs and at times the applause was very nearly audible. Now, what was the matter? A full thousand Penn State men strongly intimated their desire for a concert in a Wednesday mass meeting some weeks ago, and in the course of a standing vote, they pledged their support, yet nearly nine hundred of them enjoyed the concert from some point where tickets were selling at a figure approaching zero.

It is not a question of "Can we do better," but an actual fact that we can. If in the future, some organization puts the question to the student body to decide, think before you decide and do not force it into literal bankruptcy by encouraging it to depend on money that will never materialize.

Will You Help The Groff Day services were very poorly attended on last Sunday morning in the Auditorium, and as a consequence only a small fraction of the required amount of money necessary to support "Daddy" Groff was raised.

College men need no explanation of this mission and worthiness of its objects, so it is sufficient to say that every man in this institution should give something toward the maintenance of our representative in the far east. One thousand dollars must be raised, and as each student cannot be approached individually on the subject, he is asked to send his contribution to the Y. M. C. A. secretary, and thereby aid to facilitate the matter of making the complete collection.

Freshman Exhibition. On Saturday night at 8 o'clock in the Armory the freshman class will give a gymnastic and class exhibition which will be the first strictly freshman exhibition of its kind that has ever been held here. With the exception of Mr. Weston '13, who is one of the leaders, all the talent comes from the freshman class. The program consists of two parts, the first being a class drill and the second, a "club" drill. Several special exhibitions have been added to the program which was originally announced. Exhibitions of fancy club work will be given by Messrs. Myers and Roth. The fancy club swinging with electric lighted clubs to be given by Mr. Holman will be one of the special features of the evening. The complete program follows.

Selection, Penn State orchestra, class calisthenic drill, division one, conducted by Mr. Lewis, wrestling exhibition, Messrs. Bantle and Grumblum, boxing exhibition, Messrs. Bastian and Bloomfield, bag punching, Mr. Banes, music, Penn State orchestra, class dumbbell drill, division two, conducted by Mr. Lewis, tumbling by the Leaders' squad, conducted by Mr. Weston; Indian club swinging, Mr. Holman, Indian club swinging, Mr. Meyers; specialty, G. R. Butz; specialty, Mr. Roth, apparatus work by the Leaders' squad, conducted by Messrs. Weston and Hammond, pyramid building by the Leaders' squad, conducted by Mr. Weston.

All the men participating in the above events will be required to wear white suits, a fact which will create a favorable impression on the floor. The clays is divided into two sections containing about one hundred and fifty men. A glance at the program shows its excellence, it being both interesting and instructive. Work of this nature contributes largely toward grace, ease, muscular control, coordination of the mind and muscle, spirit of fair play, and above all, organic vigor. The admission to the exhibition is free to everyone. Seats have been arranged on the stage and in the balcony for the faculty and friends of the college, while the student body will be accommodated on the bleachers.

The class of 1914 is to be commended for taking hold of this gymnastic work in such an enthusiastic way, as it will undoubtedly be continued and lead to greater results in future year.

The Sophomore Banquet. A goodly number of the Sophomores took advantage of the opportunity of enjoying excellent class spirit and the usual "good eats" at the banquet at Altoona, last Friday, March 24.

At the Logan House, at 6 o'clock, they gathered for their splendid feast and with "Cece" Cecil as toastmaster, the following toasts were responded to: "Us," "Fritz" Baunett, "Why is a Faculty?" "Jimmie" Miller; "Effe minitis," "Dad" Engle, "Les Miserables," "Ben Cohen," "Athletics," "Pete" Mauthe, "Down Town," "Stev" Stewart; "Sciaps," "Duch" Karcher. College and class yells were given frequently and with great vim and spirit.

Altoona did its best to help make the visit a pleasant one by providing special entertainment and decorations for the fellows and all are grateful for the kind reception tendered.
